Dr. Claudine Sherrill, one of the most renowned adapted physical educators in the world, defines adapted physical activity as, "Service delivery, pedagogy, coaching, training, or empowerment conducted by qualified professionals, in mainstream and special settings, to enhance physical activity goal achievement of individuals of all ages with movement limitations and/or societal restrictions." The term adapted physical education is found in P.L. 108-446: Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 and implies that the persons taking the course are being prepared to teach students with disabilities in physical education classes in a school setting. Because the persons taking PE4103 have a Wellness Science or Recreation Administration emphasis, their clients will primarily be outside of the school setting. Changing the course name from Principles and Methods of Adapted Physical Education to Principles of Adapted Physical Activity makes a distinction between it and the course that is required of teacher candidates, PE4203: Methods of Teaching Adapted Physical Education in the Schools. We anticipate that this distinction will clarify the differences between the two courses.

1. Demonstrate personal competence in motor skill performance for a variety of physical activities and movement patterns.
2. Achieve and maintain a health-enhancing level of fitness throughout the program.
3. Demonstrate performance concepts related to skillful movement in a variety of physical activities.

 Without discrimination against those with disabilities, physical education teacher candidates with special needs are allowed and encouraged to utilize a variety of accommodations and/or modifications to demonstrate competent movement and performance concepts (modified/adapted equipment, augmented communication devices, multi-media devices, etc.) and fitness (weight training programs, exercise logs, etc.).*

Standard 3: Planning and Implementation Physical education teacher candidates plan and implement developmentally appropriate learning experiences aligned with local, state, and national standards to address the diverse needs of all students. Elements – Teacher candidates will:

1. Design and implement short and long term plans that are linked to program and instructional goals as well as a variety of student needs.

2. Develop and implement appropriate (e.g., measurable, developmentally appropriate, performance based) goals and objectives aligned with local, state, and /or national standards.
3. Design and implement content that is aligned with lesson objectives.
4. Plan for and manage resources to provide active, fair, and equitable learning experiences.
5. Plan and adapt instruction for diverse student needs, adding specific accommodations and/or modifications for student exceptionalities.
6. Plan and implement progressive and sequential instruction that addresses the diverse needs of all students.
7. Demonstrate knowledge of current technology by planning and implementing learning experiences that require students to appropriately use technology to meet lesson objectives.

Standard 4: Instructional Delivery and Management Physical education teacher candidates use effective communication and pedagogical skills and strategies to enhance student engagement and learning. Elements – Teacher candidates will:

1. Demonstrate effective verbal and non-verbal communication skills across a variety of instructional formats.
2. Implement effective demonstrations, explanations, and instructional cues and prompts to link physical activity concepts to appropriate learning experiences.
3. Provide effective instructional feedback for skill acquisition, student learning, and motivation.
4. Recognize the changing dynamics of the environment and adjust instructional tasks based on student responses.
5. Utilize managerial rules, routines, and transitions to create and maintain a safe and effective learning environment.
6. Implement strategies to help students demonstrate responsible personal and social behaviors in a productive learning environment.

Standard 5: Impact on Student Learning Physical education teacher candidates utilize assessments and reflection to foster student learning and inform instructional decisions. Elements – Teacher candidates will:

1. Select or create appropriate assessments that will measure student achievement of goals and objectives.
2. Use appropriate assessments to evaluate student learning before, during, and after instruction.
3. Utilize the reflective cycle to implement change in teacher performance, student learning, and/or instructional goals and decisions.

Standard 6: Professionalism Physical education teacher candidates demonstrate dispositions essential to becoming effective professionals. Elements – Teacher candidates will:

1. Demonstrate behaviors that are consistent with the belief that all students can become physically educated individuals.
2. Participate in activities that enhance collaboration and lead to professional growth and development.
3. Demonstrate behaviors that are consistent with the professional ethics of highly qualified teachers.
4. Communicate in ways that convey respect and sensitivity.
