DIRECTORY

This 1987 Arkansas Governor's School Directory is dedicated to the memory of John Purdy (student) and Scott Hargrove (husband of the ACS executive secretary Dana Hargrove) who both died tragically during the eighth annual Arkansas Governor's School. They will be missed but they will remain in the hearts and memories of all those whose lives they touched.

The Arkansas Governor's School is a unique educational program designed to focus on the sharpening of intellectual skills, the nurturing of creativity, and the development of the personal and social consciousness essential for 21st Century problem solving. The fully residential program is designed to create an optimum learning environment for Arkansas' gifted and talented students. Funding of the program by the State Legislature through the Arkansas Education Department makes it possible for all 400 selected students to attend without personal expenditure. Many individuals and groups have worked diligently to establish, fund, and implement this nationally pacesettering experiment in gifted and talented education. To those people we say a hearty, "Thank you". It is not often that one has the opportunity to participate in such an exhilarating educational experience. Clearly, those who designed the program hope that all the participants will personally benefit; but even more importantly, that each will be inspired and enabled to reach for loftier goals which will in fact benefit all humanity.

Students attend two Area I classes daily and one on Saturday, as well as three Area II and three Area III classes each week. Many of the topics broached in class are discussed in less formal settings around the campus. There are many guest speakers; some are entertaining, some are controversial, but all are thought provoking for those who listen. One highlight of the 1987 program was the debate on the "Clash of Worldviews: Conservative vs. Liberal" between Phyllis Shafley and Sara Weddington. Other memorable events were the performances of 20th Century music, a premiere drama production, art exhibition with Art Porter playing piano, the varied film series (including the weird "shorts"), the 4th of July convocation when Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton gave an address and answered questions, and the closing address by Senator Bumpers.

The ACS experience appears to be almost impossible to put into words. It ranges from exposure to esoteric epistemological theories to the simple but overwhelming personal pleasure of discovery of a new insight. Although the program was designed to be intellectually enriching, some of the most significant memories will be of the extra-academic recreational, cultural, social events, and the making of a whole new set of friends. All of us made enduring friendships along the way.

Best wishes to all who were here.

Area II

AREA II, which deals with conceptual development, is in many ways the heart of the AGS curriculum. It is very different from the usual classroom experience. Sometimes it is puzzling, sometimes controversial, and sometimes irritating, but always a valuable experience of intellectual discourse.

AREA III deals with social and personal development. It is designed to help individuals deal with the daily frustrations resulting from conflicts between intellectual ideals and emotional realities.

AREA III promotes the understanding of self and society.
