
COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

1ATU 5000: New Graduate Student Orientation

Students will increase their understanding and knowledge of resources on campus designed to help them successfully manage the transition to graduate school. In addition, this course assists graduate students with navigating the administrative aspects of graduate student life and gaining insight and appreciation of growth opportunities available to students outside of the classroom.

1ATU 6000: Graduate Assistant Orientation

Students will increase their understanding and knowledge of resources on campus designed to help them successfully manage the transition to graduate school and the associated responsibilities of their graduate assistant position. In addition, this course assists graduate assistants with navigating the administrative aspects of graduate student life and gaining appreciation of growth opportunities available to students outside of the classroom. Completion of the GA handbook acknowledgement and survey are required to complete this course.