

Practices/or Assigning Instructors to General Education Music Courses

Faculty are assigned to courses intended primarily for non-majors according to the:

- probability of faculty success with a broad population of students, taking into account such variables as the person's diversity of interests, personality, and ability to relate and appeal to those with a more general interest in music.
- faculty member's interest in working with these students.
- factors such as faculty load and overall departmental course coverage needs.
