Student Visa Application Procedures

Provided below is information on how to apply for a student visa. This information was taken from the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Visa Services website:

Students are encouraged to apply early! Keep in mind that June, July and January are the busiest months in most consular sections, and interview appointments are the most difficult to get during that period of time. Students need to plan ahead to avoid having to make repeat visits to the Embassy.

- 1. If you have access to the Internet visit:
 - a. F-1 Students - Study in the States: <http://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/students> and go to “Students” for information on the next steps to take.
 - b. J-1 Students – BridgeUSA: <https://j1visa.state.gov/programs/college-and-university-student> for more information on your next steps.
- 2. Make an appointment to visit the U.S. Embassy or Consulate. This can be done by telephone, mail, over the Internet, or in person, depending on circumstances in your country. Schedule your appointment as soon as you know you need to travel to the U.S. Be sure to ask what fees are required and how they can be paid. Application fees are non-refundable and must be paid before your appointment.
- 3. Get all your documentation ready. You will need:
 - a. A valid passport
 - b. Appropriate applications (These can be obtained through the Embassy or Consulate or at http://travel.state.gov/visa/visa_1750.html)
 - c. Documents to support the application detailing employment, reason for travel and financial status
 - d. Proof of payment of fees

Remember, as in the past, the consular officer may require additional information or application forms. Students should bring the following documents:

- 1. A Form I-20 or DS-2019 obtained from a U.S. college, school or university. The form must be signed by you and the school official;
- 2. A letter of acceptance from the institution issuing the Form I-20;
- 3. DS-160 Online Nonimmigrant Visa Electronic Application;
- 4. Transcripts and diplomas from previous institutions attended;
- 5. Scores from standardized tests require by the educational institution such as the TOEFL, GRE, etc;
- 6. Financial evidence that shows you or your sponsor has sufficient funds to cover your tuition and living expenses during the period of your intended study;
- 7. Some consular officers may wish to see evidence that shows that you have a compelling reason to return to your home country (e.g., spouse, child, family business, etc.)

4. Submit your application, passport, and supporting documents to the U.S. Embassy or Consulate. Your application will then be reviewed by the consular officer and, in many cases, by officials in Washington, D.C. For most applicants, the visa is issued within a few weeks. There is no guarantee of obtaining a visa.

5. In some cases, additional reviews will be required. Your information is submitted and checked in the world's foremost security database, which includes comprehensive information drawn from both U.S. and foreign law enforcement agencies worldwide.

6. A visa allows you to travel from your country to a port of entry in the U.S. In many cases, that port of entry will be the airport where you land. On the airplane you will be asked to complete a short arrival/departure form. When you deplane, follow directions for non-citizen entry. At the airport, a U.S. official will interview you and verify all of your paperwork. Once admitted, you will receive an immigration stamp and proceed to baggage claim and U.S. Customs.

The previous pages were modified from the U.S. Department of State website to assist you and to serve as a guide for visa application. For more complete and up-to-date information, you are strongly encouraged to visit The Department of Homeland Security's webpage: Study in the States:

Hints on Packing

What you bring with you to the U.S. will be a matter of personal needs and preference. However, listed below please find some useful suggestions and hints on how to pack for your trip to the U.S.:

WHAT TO BRING:

Clothing

In general, campus wear is very casual. Jeans, slacks, casual shirts, T-shirts and jackets are common. Winters (November - February) in Russellville often bring very cold weather that requires a heavy coat. Clothing is readily available in a wide price range in the U.S. and many of your clothes may be purchased after you arrive. You may want to bring some of your native clothing as well for international celebrations and programs.

Books

Take books, manuals or journals that you think may be difficult to obtain in the U.S. Specific and general information about your country will be helpful to share with new friends.

Contact

Take the name, address and telephone number of the individual at Arkansas Tech University who should be contacted in case of a travel delay or an emergency. Also, take the name, address and telephone number of a contact person at home.

Medicines

If you take medication regularly, bring a sufficient supply along with a copy of the prescription. If you wear glasses, it is a good idea to bring an extra pair and your prescription, if possible. You may feel more comfortable using non-prescriptive medicines you are familiar with for headaches, colds, upset stomach, etc. However, aspirins, ointments and remedies are widely available in the U.S.

WHAT TO LEAVE BEHIND:

Electrical

The U.S. uses a flat parallel two-pin plug on a 110 to 120 volt power supply, not commonly used in other countries. Many of your electrical goods will not work without a suitable adapter. Many electrical goods such as hairdryers, cassette players/radios, irons, etc. can be purchased in the U.S. at a reasonable price.

Bedding

Bulky items of bedding can be purchased inexpensively in the U.S. If you live on-campus, you will need to purchase twin size sheets and comforters. If you live off-campus in a furnished apartment, please check with the real estate agency to determine the proper size of bedding.

You will pay for your medical insurance in addition to your tuition and fees. There are limited waivers given for this requirement, such as athletes, government scholarship recipients, and exchange students. If you have medical insurance from your home country, you may use this coverage in addition to your Tech insurance, but not in place of the Tech policy.

Placement Exam for Math and English

Undergraduate Students Only

If Arkansas Tech University has not received official ACT or SAT scores from you prior to your arrival, you will be required to take the ACCUPLACER exam before you enroll in classes. The ACCUPLACER exam is a placement exam for reading, writing and math.

The ACCUPLACER exam is administered at the Tech Testing Center. The exam will be administered during new student orientation or prior to this time if you arrive to campus early. The cost of the exam is currently $35. The exam will last approximately 3 hours or 1 hour per section.

You may be exempt from taking the ACCUPLACER exam if you are transferring from a U.S. college or university and have already completed the basic courses in English and math. Please contact the International Students and Scholars office (ISS) to inquire about exemptions or to schedule a time to take the exam.

Maintenance of F-1 Status

Important Information

Once a student is admitted to the United States in F-1 status, he or she must meet certain obligations in order to maintain status. Failure to maintain the terms and conditions of nonimmigrant status is a ground for removal (deportation) from the United States under 8 U.S.C. 1227 § 237(a)(1)(C)(i).

In order to maintain nonimmigrant status, the student must:

- Report to Sara L. Chronister, Director of International Students and Scholars/Principal Designated School Official (PDSO), for Initial Registration in the Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) upon arriving at the school and for each subsequent semester. This must be completed within 30 days after the start date of each semester.
- For the first entry to the U.S. for initial school attendance, the school listed on the visa and on the I-20 presented at the port-of-entry must be the same. This is the school that the student must intend to attend.
- Pursue a “full course of study” at the school listed on the currently valid I-20 during every academic session or semester except during official school breaks, or unless approved under a specific exception, in advance, by Sara L. Chronister, PDSO. For undergraduate students, you must maintain 12 credit hours. For graduate students, you must maintain 9 credit hours. If you have a graduate assistantship, you are allowed to take 6 credit hours. You must notify me of your graduate assistantship. Do not drop any courses without visiting with the ISS prior to dropping below 12 hours or 9 hours respectively.
- Make normal progress towards completing the course of study, by completing studies before the expiration date on the program completion date on Form I-20.
- Do not allow your I-20 to expire.
- Keep I-20 valid by following proper procedures for change in educational levels or programs of study.
- Keep I-20 valid by following proper procedures for transfer of schools.
- Abide by the F-1 grace period rules, including remaining in the U.S. for no longer than 60 days after completing a full course of study, unless prior to completing the course of study the student has followed procedures for applying for practical training, moving education levels or school transfer. There is no grace period following an unauthorized withdrawal or termination of studies or status violation.

- Report a change of residence to the ISS within 10 days of the change.
- Abide by rules requiring disclosure of information and prohibition on criminal activity.
- Abide by any special requirements, such as Special Registration requirements.
- Not work, either on or off-campus, unless specifically authorized under the regulations at 8 C.F.R. §214.2(f)(9) or §214.2(f)(10).
- Abide by the aggregate unemployment rules while on post-completion OPT.
- Students taking on-line or distance learning courses may only count one of those, 3 credit hours, toward the total required to maintain a full course of study. Other courses must be traditional, campus-based courses. Note: You are not limited to one distance learning course, but no matter how many you take, only 1 (3 credit hours) counts toward a full course of study.
- Make sure your passport is valid and has not expired.

An F-1 student is admitted to the United States for “duration of status”, defined in the regulations as the period during which the student is “pursuing a full course of study at an educational institution approved by USCIS for attendance by foreign students, or engaging in authorized practical training following completion of studies, plus 60 days to prepare for departure from the United States. The student is considered to be maintaining status if he or she is making normal progress toward completing a “full” course of study.” [8CFR 214.2(f)(5)(1)]
