

Arkansas Region Junior Science and Humanities Symposium

What is the Arkansas Junior Science and Humanities Symposium?

The Arkansas Junior Science and Humanities Symposium (AJSHS) is a STEM research competition that serves as the regional qualifier for the National JSHS symposium.

JSHS promotes original research and experimentation in the sciences, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) at the high school level through competition at regional and national levels.

Who can compete?

- U.S. Citizens and Lawful Permanent Residents
- Arkansas students in 9th–12th (public, private, or homeschool)
 - 8th grade and 9-11th grade students that are interested in competing may attend as observers for one year

When and where?

- The 2024 AJSH will be held on the Arkansas Tech University Russellville campus on February 23rd -24th.
 - Papers for the oral presentation competition are due January 28th
 - The registration deadline for observers and poster presenters is February 16th.

Awards

- Scholarships and cash prizes
- All expense paid trip to Nationals for oral presenters

How much?

- Registration for AJSHS is FREE
- Meals and housing during the event are paid for by AJSHS (students and chaperones are housed in a local hotel Friday night)

More information

- Contact Dr. Jessica Young at jyoung35@atu.edu
- For Information and registration visit www.atu.edu/jshs

Interested in attending but don't have research to present this year?
Students are invited to attend as observers for one year!

Sponsored by the DoD and the Departments of the U.S. Army, Navy, and Airforce