

Arkansas Junior Science and Humanities Symposium

Save the Date! Feb 21-22, 2025

What is the Arkansas Junior Science and Humanities Symposium?

The Arkansas Junior Science and Humanities Symposium (AJSHS) is a STEM research competition that serves as the regional qualifier for the National JSHS symposium.

JSHS promotes original research and experimentation in the sciences, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) at the high school level through competition at regional and national levels.

Who can compete?

- U.S. Citizens and Lawful Permanent Residents
- Arkansas students in 9th–12th (public, private, or homeschool)
 - 8th grade and 9th - 11th grade students who are interested in competing may attend as observers for one year

When and where?

- The 2025 AJSHS will be held on the Arkansas Tech University Russellville campus on February 21st -22nd.
 - Students are required to attend all activities (unless permitted by the director)
 - Papers for the oral presentation competition are due January 22nd
 - The registration deadline for observers and poster presenters is February 14th.

Awards

- Scholarships and cash prizes
- All expense paid trip to Nationals for oral presenters

How much?

- Registration for AJSHS is FREE
- Meals and housing during the event are paid for by AJSHS (students and chaperones are housed in a local hotel Friday night)

More information

- Contact Dr. Jessica Young at jyoung35@atu.edu
- For information and registration, visit www.atu.edu/jshs

Interested in attending but don't have research to present this year?

Students are invited to attend as observers for one year!

Sponsored by the DoD and the Departments of the U.S. Army, Navy, and Air Force