Women's Week Art Exhibit

To: Art Professors & Students

From: Department of Campus Life

Greetings,

This letter is in regards to the upcoming Women's Week of events, taking place March 6-11. The Department of Campus Life will be celebrating this week with programming focused on the theme, Breaking the Mold. Due to the success of the art exhibit over the last few years, we will again host an art contest during our week of events. We are looking for students to display art work surrounding their interpretation of Breaking the Mold.

Students can submit any kind of work of art to be displayed in the Witherspoon lobby from March 6-11. The work will be judged Monday, March 6, and the winning student will be awarded a $500 prize at the Art Exhibit Open House on Tuesday, March 7 at 6:00 pm in Witherspoon Lobby. Works will be judged by art professors in the River Valley community.

OVERALL CONCEPT:

The subject matter should be about student interpretation of Breaking the Mold. This may come from personal experiences as well as social observations.

JUDGING CRITERIA:

- Work should have been completed since the student has been in college.
- Work should be no more than three years old.
- Works should be displayed professionally. Framing and mounting is not required.

SIZE REQUIREMENTS:

- Maximum size: Work must fit in the display cases in Witherspoon Lobby.
- Any work that does not fit in the display case is not eligible.

ENTRY REGULATIONS:

- The student can submit up to three (3) works.
- Works should be dropped off at Witherspoon Lobby on Friday, March 3 between 12:00 pm - 2:00 pm.
- Works can be picked up on Friday, March 11 at 2:00 pm - 3:00 pm in the Witherspoon Lobby. Any work not picked up that afternoon becomes property of the Department of Campus Life.
- Each work should have a name tag attached to the backs of all works entered. Tags should include name, title, media, price, and contact information of the student.
