Holi Festival

What's it about? Holi is a spring festival also known as the festival of colors or the festival of love. It is an ancient Hindu religious festival which has become popular in many parts of South Asia, as well as people of other communities outside Asia. It is celebrated at the end of the winter season on the last full moon day of the lunar month, which usually falls in March, sometimes in late February. The festival has many purposes; most prominently, it celebrates the beginning of spring. Hindus believe it is a time of enjoying spring's abundant colors and saying farewell to winter. Holi festivities mark the beginning of the new year to many Hindus, as well as justification to reset and renew broken relationships, end conflicts, and stored-up emotional impurities from the past. Come join us to celebrate the festival of color hosted by International Student Services (ISS). Please, dress-wearing your old white T-shirt as you will be celebrating Holi by throw colors (powder and/or liquid) at each other!
