Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . LLOD 5003 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 5003 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 5003 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)

- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 5003: Foundations of Organizational Leadership and Learning

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 5003 – Foundations of Organizational Leadership provides students with a broad survey of leadership theory, leadership competencies, and self-evaluative tools to begin a leadership development plan. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: 1) identify, compare, and contrast classic and contemporary theoretical models and practices in organizational leadership; 2) evaluate personal leadership style and design individual leadership development plan; 3) describe the role of lifelong learning in developing capacity and leading organizations; 4) analyze the similarities and differences in private sector leadership, nonprofit leadership, and community leadership; 5) distinguish between individual, systems, and relational models of leadership; 6) discuss the impact of globalization and organizational diversity on leadership practices; 7) identify and examine traits of destructive leadership, including issues of ethics, toxicity, and hostile organizational practices; and 8) demonstrate a knowledge of leadership skills, including leading change, effective communication, team-building and motivation, data-drive decision making, and followership.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral and written presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 5003 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.
- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs have foundational courses in organizational behavior and learning, organizational development, and adult learning and development.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies*Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic "F" for the test/assignment in question and possibly an "F" for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic "F" for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a "FE" grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . LLOD 5013 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 5013 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 5013 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)

- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 5013 – Foundations of Organizational Leadership provides students with the skills needed to participate in organizational training and development efforts by gaining a theoretically and practically grounded perspective on training and development in the workplace. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: 1) explain the historical, current, and future role of training and development (training, coaching, mentoring, etc) in organizations; 2) apply principles of training and development theory, organizational learning, coaching, mentoring, and adult learning theory to the training and development process; 3) identify and analyze the training and development (training, coaching, mentoring) needs of an organization; 4) classify key components of organizational, training, and coaching culture; 5) develop a training and development/coaching plan to address organizational needs; 6) compare, contrast, and recommend training/coaching tools in a diversity of organizational contexts; 7) evaluate training/coaching effectiveness, including training/coaching costs, assessment/test development, program development, and ROI; and 8) discuss ethical concerns, current trends, and future of training, coaching, mentoring, and training equity in organizations.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 5013 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.
- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs have courses in adult learning. For example, ADED 6381 – Adult Learning and Development at University of the Incarnate Word.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Grading Scale

90-100 % = A

80-89 % = B

70-79 % = C

60-69 % = D

Under 60 % = F

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies*Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)? No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 5023 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6033 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 5023 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)

- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 5023: Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 5023 – Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility and Writing covers ethics in the workplace and role of organizational leaders in fostering ethical behavior. This course examines personal, organizational, and societal values and ethics in organizations. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: a) explain the importance and impact of ethics in an organization; b) define and distinguish between organizational ethical perceptions; c) develop and demonstrate an understanding of ethical competencies; d) critically analyze the ethical issues that occur in organizations; e) demonstrate an understanding of ethical influences; f) describe, compare, and evaluate the ethical measure of an organization on a state, national, and global level; g) research and critically examine, through case studies, the ethical outcomes of organization; h) demonstrate an awareness of personal perceptions of differentiating ethics models
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 5023 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. - g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs require a course in ethics. For example, University of the Incarnate Word requires ORGD 6301 – Principles of Leadership Ethics.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Team-Based Learning Activities	100
Application Assignments	100
Essay & Case Study Series Assignments	100
Quizzes/Tests	100
Discussion/Journal/Wiki	100
Final Exam	100

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

At least once per term.
Will this course require any special resources such as unusual maintenance costs, library resources, special software, distance learning equipment, etc.? Access to a computer, the internet, and webcam or other video capture technology.
Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)? No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 5033 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 5033 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.

- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 5033 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)

- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 5023: Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 5033 examines the necessary skills and characteristics of becoming a leader in diversity and inclusion for the workplace. Students will become familiar with the history, current state, and the laws concerning diversity and inclusion through readings, videos, and research. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: explain the importance diversity and inclusion from an organization perspective; distinguish the differences between an organization being diverse and inclusive; demonstrate an understanding of various forms/types of diversity; critically analyze published literature for inclusion in a literature review; demonstrate a shared understanding of cultural competence and managing diversity; describe, compare, and evaluate diversity measures on a local, state, and national level; compose a literature review/research report in APA format; research and critically examine diversity trainings and case studies; research, design and present a group project on diversity leadership and trainings.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 5033 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. - g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include ORG 8720: Diversity and Inclusion and ORG 7701: Theoretical Frameworks for Diversity Work at the University of the Rockies.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Arkansas Tech University does not discriminate on the basis of color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, race, age, national origin, religion, veteran status, genetic information, or disability in any of our practices, policies, or procedures. If you have experienced any form of discrimination or harassment, including sexual misconduct (e.g. sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, domestic or dating violence), we encourage you to report this to the institution. If you report such an incident of misconduct to a faculty or staff member, they are required by law to notify Arkansas Tech University's Title IX Coordinator and share the basic fact of your experience. The Title IX Coordinator will then be available to assist you in understanding all of your options and in connecting you with all possible resources on and off campus. For more information please visit: <http://www.atu.edu/titleix/index.php>.

Arkansas Tech University adheres to the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act in order to prevent barriers to academic accessibility. No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6003 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6003 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6003 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)

- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6003: Leading Organizational Change

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? 6003: Leading Organizational Change provides students with both the conceptual framework and the practical skills needed to design, implement and evaluate effective organizational change. Uncertainty, complexity and rapidly changing organizational environments create the necessity for organizations to adapt in order to survive in the 21st century. Students will work individually or in groups to engage in various activities intended to illustrate or practice the skills involved in planning and implementing organizational change. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: 1) identify the principle theories and historical foundations of organizational change, development, and transformative leadership; 2) demonstrate skills in recognizing change opportunities in organizations; 3) apply the processes through which planned change may be accomplished; 4) develop change agent competencies; 5) recommend diverse methods for collection of diagnostic data in organizations; 6) explain the similarities and differences between insider and outsider approaches to organizational development interventions; 7) assess own ability and readiness to lead change in organizations
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6003 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.
- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs have courses in organizational change. For example, ORLD 5450 – Leading Organizational Change is offered at Saint Louis University and ORGD 6360 – Leading Change is offered at Incarnate Word.

Course Description

This course is designed to provide students with both the conceptual framework and the practical skills needed to lead effective organizational change. Over time everything changes, even organizations. Good leaders do not wait for change; they encourage and facilitate it. In this course, students will concentrate on becoming effective change agents. Students will explore how to assess organizations for change, become familiar with behavioral theories for individual and organizational change, and implement the process for organizational change. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate standing.

Required Course Texts: Required readings assigned in each module. All required readings are provided electronically through the ATU Library. See course bibliography for course resources.

Justification for the Course

This course is designed to provide students with the conceptual framework and practical skills needed to lead effective organizational change in various types of organizations. Using theories and techniques of organizational change, adult learning, and organizational development, students will investigate the ways in which organizations change, the conditions necessary for change, why change occurs, and leading the change process.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

Essay Series

In select modules, students will complete short essays focused on specific module content. The purpose of these short essays is to demonstrate understanding and application of concepts covered in the learning modules. Essays vary in length from 1500 – 2500 words and must be in APA format.

Team-Based Learning

In select modules, students will work in collaborative teams to complete tasks associated with module content. In most cases, students will work together on practical application of concepts.

Change Journal

Over the course of the semester, students will submit entries in a change journal. The change journal provides students with an opportunity to reflect on course concepts and apply course concepts to professional, academic, and personal experiences.

Application Assignments

In select modules, students will submit assignments which require direct application of course content in one's profession. Students will produce documents, questionnaires, plans, objectives, or other items to demonstrate understanding of theory and practical application.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Team-Based Learning Activities	100
Application Assignments	100
Essay Series Assignments	100
Change Journal	80
Discussion	20
Midterm Exam	50
Final Exam	50
Total	500

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D
Under 60 %	=	F

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies*Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6013 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6013 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6013 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)

- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6013: Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: be able to recognize and identify conflicts in the organization, introduce communicative methods to resolving various conflicts, and apply problem-solving methods to reduce conflicts.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.
- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6013 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia.

Course Description

Conflicts are an unavoidable part of life; whether at home, the classroom, or the office. The Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution course is designed to prepare organizational leaders with the theoretical and practical knowledge to work through difficult conversations and become problem-solvers and change agents for their workplace.

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate standing.

Required Course Texts: Folger, J. P., Poole, M. S., & Stutman, R. K. (2017). Working through conflict: Strategies for relationships, groups, and organizations. 8th ed. New York, NY: Routledge.

The ebook version of the text is provided for this course. To access the text, go ATU's library website <http://libguides.atu.edu>. Click on "Professional Studies." Then click on the course name. The link to the ebook will be on the home page.

Justification for the Course

This course provides current and future organizational leaders with theoretical and practical materials to facilitate productive, communicative methods to solving conflicts. It is imperative that leaders are able to facilitate constructive dialogue within the organization. These skills are necessary to the successful completion of the MA degree in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	Identify the principle theories and historical foundations of organizational change, development, and transformative leadership
2	Refine skills in recognizing change opportunities in organizations
3	Develop an understanding of the processes through which planned change may be accomplished, the development of the need for change, the creation of vision, the analysis and influencing of stakeholders, and managing the transition
4	Recommend diverse methods for collection and analysis of diagnostic data in organizations
5	Explain the similarities and differences between insider and outsider approaches to organizational development interventions
6	Assess own ability and readiness to lead change in organizations
7	Examine ethical issues in organizational change and transformative leadership

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

Essay Series

In select modules, students will complete short essays focused on specific module content. The purpose of these short essays is to demonstrate understanding and application of concepts covered in the learning modules. Essays vary in length from 1500 – 2500 words and must be in APA format.

Team-Based Learning

In select modules, students will work in collaborative teams to complete tasks associated with module content. In most cases, students will work together on practical application of concepts.

Application Assignments

In select modules, students will submit assignments which require direct application of course content in one's profession. Students will produce documents, questionnaires, plans, objectives, or other items to demonstrate understanding of theory and practical application.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Team-Based Learning Activities	100
Application Assignments	180
Essay Series Assignments	100
Quizzes/Tests	100
Discussion/Journal	100
Final Exam	100
Total	680

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D
Under 60 %	=	F

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies*Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . LLOD 6023 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6023 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6023 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

LLOD 6023: Evidence-Based Decision Making

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? 6023: Evidence-Based Decision Making provides students with evidence-based frameworks used in leadership practices to make sound decisions. Topics including defining objectives, collecting relevant, reliable information, generating feasible options, making the decision, implementation, and evaluating results, as well as forward-based decision making and intuition. Participation in course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: 1) explain the evidence-based decision making process, 2) define a problem including context, variables, and viewpoints, 3) determine authoritative, reliable, factual sources of information, 4) identify data collection methods to address specific problem, 5) compare types of data and explain when the use of specific data is appropriate. evaluate potential issues and errors in the decision-making process, 6) describe ethical considerations and concerns in the decision-making process, 7) evaluate the outcomes of implementing a decision.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6023 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs have courses in decision making. For example, ORLD 5050 – Ethical, Evidence-Based Decision Making and ORLD 5700 – Advanced Evidence-Based Decision Making at Saint Louis University.

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Team-Based Learning Activities	80
Application Assignments	125
Essay Series Assignments	125
Discussion/Journal/Wiki	70
Midterm Exam	50
Final Exam	50
Total	500

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6033 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6033 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6033 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course

- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6033: Research Methods and Writing

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 6033 – Research Methods and Writing covers skills in qualitative, quantitative, and mixed-methods research. Students will become familiar with the process of conducting research and learn to present their findings in written manuscripts and executive summaries. Students are required to select a comprehensive exam or thesis track. Thesis track students research a thesis topic, begin the literature review process, and develop a research proposal. This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: a) explain the importance of research, approaches to research, and elements of the research process, b) develop a purpose statement, problem statement, research questions, and hypotheses, c) demonstrate an understanding of value systems and ethics in research, and the importance of the IRB process, d) identify and critically analyze published literature for inclusion in a literature review, e) compare and contrast quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods research, f) describe, compare, contrast, and calculate quantitative measurements in descriptive and inferential statistics, g) Describe, compare, and evaluate qualitative data, h) compose a literature review, research report, and thesis in APA format
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6033 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs require at least 3 credit-hours in research. For example, Saint Louis University has a 3 credit-hour stats/analytics requirement.

Course Description

Research Methods and Writing covers skills in quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods research. Students will become familiar with research design, methodology, data collection, data management, data analysis, and reporting results. Participation in course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate Standing

Required Course Texts: Required readings assigned in each module. All required readings are provided electronically through the ATU Library. See course bibliography for course resources.

Justification for the Course

This course covers skills in quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods research. Students will become familiar with research design, methodology, data collection, data management, data analysis, and reporting results. These skills are necessary to the successful completion of the MA degree in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	explain the importance of research, approaches to research, and elements of the research process
2	develop a purpose statement, problem statement, research questions, and hypotheses
3	demonstrate an understanding of value systems and ethics in research, and the importance of the IRB process
4	identify and critically analyze published literature for inclusion in a literature review
5	compare and contrast quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods research
6	describe, compare, contrast, and calculate quantitative measurements in descriptive and inferential statistics
7	describe, compare, and evaluate qualitative data
8	compose a literature review, research report, and thesis in APA format

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

AssessmentsAssignments*

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Team-Based Learning Activities	100
Application Assignments	50
Essay Series Assignments	100
Quizzes/Tests	100
Discussion/Journal/Wiki	50
Final Exam	100
Total	500

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Contact Information

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . LLOD 6043 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached LLOD 6043 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6043 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course

- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6043: Organizational Leadership and Learning Capstone

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.
a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 6043 – This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: 1) Apply concepts learned in the MA-LLOD program to thesis or comprehensive exam completion, 2) Create an online portfolio to highlight academic and professional competencies, 3) Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of leadership, adult learning, and organizational development theory and practice through successful completion of either a thesis or comprehensive examination, 4) Recommend practical, evidence-based solutions to complex problems through analysis of research data, 5) Present research findings in accessible formats to reach a variety of stakeholders, 6) Reflect on personal and professional growth through the MA-LLOD program
d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.
f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6043 is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. - g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. The University of the Incarnate Word requires ORGD 63CS - Capstone. Saint Louis University also requires a Capstone course for a Master's research project.

Course Description

In LLOD 6043: Organizational Leadership and Learning Capstone, students will demonstrate mastery in leadership, adult learning, and organizational development theory and practice through completion of either a master's thesis or comprehensive exams. Students will select a thesis or comprehensive exam track. Students selecting to complete a master's thesis will develop a research project. Comprehensive exam students will submit extensive, data-supported responses to four questions regarding theory and practice in organizational leadership, adult learning, and organizational development. All students will complete an electronic portfolio highlighting academic and professional competencies. Participation in course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Successful completion of 24 credit-hours of graduate-level LLOD coursework or permission of program chair.

Required Course Texts: Required readings assigned in each module. All required readings are provided electronically through the ATU Library. See course bibliography for course resources.

Justification for the Course

This capstone course allows students to demonstrate mastery in the concepts learned through completion of core coursework in leadership, learning, and organizational development. Students will complete either a master's thesis or comprehensive exams to demonstrate proficiency in theory, research, and practice.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	Apply concepts learned in the MA-LLOD program to thesis or comprehensive exam completion
2	Create an online portfolio to highlight academic and professional competencies
3	Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of leadership, adult learning, and organizational development theory and practice through successful completion of either a thesis or comprehensive examination
4	Recommend practical, evidence-based solutions to complex problems through analysis of research data
5	Present research findings in accessible formats to reach a variety of stakeholders
6	Reflect on personal and professional growth through the MA-LLOD program

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

Assessments

Assignments

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
ePortfolio	50
Assignments	100
Capstone Journal/Discussion	50
Thesis or Comprehensive Exam	300
Total	500

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D
Under 60 %	=	F

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies*Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic "F" for the test/assignment in question and possibly an "F" for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic "F" for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a "FE" grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a "FE" grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Elective  Major  Minor

(If major or minor course, you must complete the Request for Program Change form to add course to program.)

If course is required by major/minor, how frequently will course be offered?

Will this course require any special resources such as unusual maintenance costs, library resources, special software, distance learning equipment, etc.? Access to a computer, the internet, and webcam or other video capture technology.

Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)?

No.

Answer the following Assessment questions:

- a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
- b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
  1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6883 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
  2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached 6891-4 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.

- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6883 is proposed as an elective course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.

m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6883: Special Problems in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development

Our Mission
Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.
a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 6883 serves as an elective offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: LLOD 6891-4 course outcomes are designed to address one or all of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.
f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD LLOD 6891-4 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy. is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. - g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia. These programs include elective courses at the graduate level.

Course Description

Special problems in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development is designed to address current issues and topics relevant to leadership, learning, and organizational development. Content is determined by contemporary trends and timely issues.

Note: Since the topic for the course will vary each time offered, a student can repeat this course, earning a maximum of six (6) graduate credit hours.

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate status and permission of program chair.

Required Course Texts: Required readings assigned in each module. All required readings are provided electronically through the ATU Library. See course bibliography for course resources.

Justification for the Course

This course is designed to offer students graduate-level instruction on current issues or problems in the areas of leadership, learning, and organizational development.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	Examine advanced topics in leadership, learning, and organizational development
2	Additional objectives vary based on course content

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic "F" for the test/assignment in question and possibly an "F" for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic "F" for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a "FE" grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a "FE" grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a "W". If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an "F" on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a "W" rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Answer the following Assessment questions:

- If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
- If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
  - Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6891-4 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
  - Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached 6891-4 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. - c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6891-4 is proposed as an elective course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

Course Description

Open to graduate students who wish to pursue individual study or investigation of some facet of knowledge, which complements the purpose of the University's graduate program. Students will be required to plan their studies and prepare formal written reports of their findings.

Note: The selected topic may not constitute any duplication of study leading to the accomplishment of a thesis.

Note: May be repeated for credit (up to six hours).

Cross-Listed Course: None

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate Standing

Required Course Texts: Required readings assigned in each module. All required readings are provided electronically through the ATU Library. See course bibliography for course resources.

Justification for the Course

This course is designed to allow students to examine a specific topic in leadership, learning, and organizational development under the guidance of a graduate faculty member. It provides an opportunity for the student to learn about areas of leadership, learning, and organizational development when no class is offered on the topic. It can provide for pre-thesis explorations and writing.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	Examine advanced topics in leadership, learning, and organizational development
2	Additional objectives vary based on course content

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Elective  Major  Minor

(If major or minor course, you must complete the Request for Program Change form to add course to program.)

If course is required by major/minor, how frequently will course be offered?

Will this course require any special resources such as unusual maintenance costs, library resources, special software, distance learning equipment, etc.? Access to a computer, the internet, and webcam or other video capture technology.

Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)?
No.

Answer the following Assessment questions:

- a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
- b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
  1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. LLOD 6991-3 addresses one or more of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
  2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.

- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? LLOD 6991-3 is proposed core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech. An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)
- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.

m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

LLOD 6991-3: Thesis Continuation in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.
a. How does this course fit with the university mission? LLOD 6991-3 serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: LLOD 6991-3 course outcomes are designed to address one or more of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.
d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.
f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. LLOD 6991-3 addresses one or more of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy. is proposed as a core course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD)

Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)?
 No.

Answer the following Assessment questions:

- If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
- If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
  - Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses. PS 5143 addresses one or more of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached PS 5143 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? PS 5143 is proposed as a graduate-level elective course to satisfy requirements for a nonprofit leadership track in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program, as well as an elective option for other graduate-level programs. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? PS 5143 supports the University mission of providing life-long learning to a diverse community of learners, while striving for the betterment of Arkansas. With its service-learning requirement, PS 5143 addresses plan goal 1.9 in increases high-impact practices for graduate students. PS 5143 focuses on assessment, planning, leadership, financing, and evaluation in nonprofit organizations. This course serves as an elective offering in the MA-LLOD degree, as well as other graduate-level programs. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options. PS 5143 increases access to interdisciplinary coursework for graduate students.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: Analyze the role of socio-ecological role of nonprofits and philanthropic enterprise; Evaluate the efficacy and viability of nonprofit organizations; Evaluate the marketing and communications efficacy of a nonprofit organization; Synthesize social justice, economic, and institutional theories of the nonprofit sector; Critique and appraise peer-reviewed nonprofit academic literature; Integrate nonprofit theory and practice to design solutions to complex nonprofit leadership challenges.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, f) team-based learning, and g) service-learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail, and service-learning to enhance retention of course concepts through practical application of content.
- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. PS 5143 supports the University mission of providing life-long learning to a diverse community of learners, while striving for the betterment of Arkansas. With its service-learning requirement, PS 5143 addresses plan goal 1.9 in increases high-impact practices for graduate students. PS 5143 focuses on assessment, planning, leadership, financing, and evaluation in nonprofit organizations. This course serves as an elective offering in the MA-LLOD degree, as well as other graduate-level programs. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options. PS 5143 increases access to interdisciplinary coursework for graduate students. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. The University of Arkansas at Little Rock offers PADM 7333 Administrative Leadership and Public Management, PADM 7324 Nonprofit Financial Management, and PADM 7336 Managing the Not-for-Profit Sector. Although not identical, these courses are related in content covered.

Course Description:

This course examines the theoretical, philosophical, practical and ethical perspectives related to the effective management and leadership of nonprofit organizations in the twenty-first century. Upon completion of the course, the student will possess an understanding of 1) the historical development of the nonprofit sector, 2) the multiple rationales for the existence of the nonprofit sector, 3) the distinctive characteristics of nonprofit organizations, 4) the structures, processes and complexities of organizational governance shared by volunteer board members and professional staff, 5) the dynamic environment of the contemporary nonprofit organization, and 6) the current issues of importance to nonprofit decision makers.

Required Text:

Crutchfield, L., & McLeod-Grant, H. (2012). Social forces for good: The six practices of high-impact nonprofits. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass

Prerequisite Knowledge: This course does not require any prior knowledge for success. As an online course, written dialogue and assignments are the “coin of the realm.” You do not have to be an expert grammarian to succeed. However, you must be professional and attempt to submit work generally free of errors. Proofreading is queen. You must be willing to improve your writing as the course progresses. Those who strive to write professionally enjoy enhanced career success. It is a game-changer for many employers.

Critical Pedagogy: This course is designed to make you apply critical thinking and problem-solving. The materials in this course examine leadership through equality, liberation, freedom from oppression and anti-marginalization. We will explore leadership through an inclusive lens of many socio-cultural perspectives. Critical pedagogy establishes a learner-to-learner agreement between the instructor and the student. I, as your instructor, intend to learn from you and your lived experience. You are challenged to be active learners and to develop your criticality and creativity. Many of the learning methodologies in this course do not have a “right or a wrong” answer. Your assessment often depends on the depth and content of your response and your willingness to explore the topic through your lens and the lenses of others. It is important to note the presence of any particular socio-cultural lens does not advocate for or against any position, philosophy, or power structure. The lenses set the context of exploration.

Justification for the Course

Nonprofit organizations employ in excess of 10% of the workforce in the United States, which exceeds the combined workforce of national defense, construction, real estate, and space research. In 2014 the nonprofit sector contributed an estimated $937 billion to the US economy, which equates to 5.4 percent of gross domestic product (GDP). The nonprofit sector presents itself in every aspect of everyday life, including politics, government, faith-based entities, sports leagues and associations, advocacy, disaster relief, and so on.

Purpose of the Course

PS 5143 Nonprofit Governance challenges you to think. Not just to think about theories and applications of practice related to the sector, but to critically explore nonprofit governance and operations through diverse assignments and multiple socio-cultural lenses. Most importantly, your lived-experience before this course shapes the framework of your journey. The nonprofit sector impacts people and communities at the local, state, and national levels. Students who understand the interconnectivity of the sector to the economy and society have the skills, knowledge, and abilities necessary to influence change.

Program Outcomes

The MA in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development focuses on advanced topics in leadership theory, adult learning theory, leadership skills, and soft skills applied in business, government, non-profit, and/or educational settings. The 24 credit hour core includes instruction in organizational planning, dynamics of leadership, financial literacy, team building, conflict resolution and mediation, training and development, adult learning theory, communication, and other leadership skills.

1. Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Development Theory – students will review, analyze, and apply prominent theories in leadership, leadership ethics, followership, adult learning, and development to address organizational issues in diverse settings.
2. Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication – students will develop strategic verbal, written, interpersonal, and technological communication functions for leadership, training, and motivation.
3. Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork – students will identify and implement effective, ethical solutions for complex organizational systems through group dynamics and team building.

4. Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility – students will articulate the impact of social and cultural diversity in organizations.
5. Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking – students will demonstrate ethical, evidenced based decision-making practices based on exploration of issues, collection of evidence, data analysis, critique of sources, and interpretation of results.
6. Awareness of Self and Others – students will develop a sense of self and others through exploration, identification, and articulation of social and cultural norms that form ethics, identity, values, beliefs, and motivations.
7. Financial Literacy – demonstrate competency in basic concepts of budgeting, financial strategy, and financial ethics in a professional setting.

Course Learning Objectives (CLOs):

At the completion of this course, you should be able to:

- CLO 1: Analyze the role of socio-ecological role of nonprofits and philanthropic enterprise
- CLO 2: Evaluate the efficacy and viability of nonprofit organizations
- CLO 3: Evaluate the marketing and communications efficacy of a nonprofit organization.
- CLO 4: Synthesize social justice, economic, and institutional theories of the nonprofit sector.
- CLO 5: Critique and appraise peer-reviewed nonprofit academic literature
- CLO 6: Integrate nonprofit theory and practice to design solutions to complex nonprofit leadership challenges.

How the Course Meets the General Education Requirements

The general education curriculum at Arkansas Tech University is designed to provide a foundation for knowledge common to educated people and to develop the capacity for individuals to expand that knowledge over his or her lifetime. The University has identified a set of comprehensive goals that will allow students to accomplish these general education objectives. This course addresses the following specific Arkansas Tech University general education goals:

Think critically
Develop ethical perspectives
Communicate effectively

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, video presentations, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, online discussions, blogs, wikis, journals and individual assignments. Each week, at least, one PowerPoint presentation is available to correlate with the assigned textbook readings.

Course Structure

The course structure includes 16 individual modules, most of which address the theory and practice of the nonprofit sector in the United States. The module structure is as follows:

- Pre-Course Module
- Module 1: Nonprofit Management – A Social Justice Approach
- Module 2: History of the Nonprofit Sector
- Module 3: Nonprofit Management and Leadership
- Module 4: Board Governance
- Module 5: Law, Governance, and Ethics
- Module 6: Program Design
- Module 7: Program Evaluation
- Module 8: Mid-Term Examination
- Module 9: Staff and Volunteer Engagement
- Module 10: Fundraising
- Module 11: Marketing and Communications
- Module 12: Forces for Good and Economic Theory I
- Module 13: Forces for Good and Economic Theory II
- Module 14: Forces for Good and Economic Theory III
- Module 15: Course Completion and Final Examination

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the “Content” tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

Assessments

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments will be posted in the "Course Content" tab in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified in the "Tentative Course Schedule and Assignments" section of the syllabus. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard to receive credit.

Team-Based Learning

Team-based learning provides an opportunity for small-group interaction in the virtual space, while creating an avenue for the introduction of the student's lived-experience in the domain of philanthropy and assessment. Through peer review techniques, students evaluate peer work to enhance peer and self-learning. Team-based learning has the capacity to create transformative outcomes when a new subject offers significant amounts of new, or unfamiliar, material and when students are required to apply the knowledge acquired.

Examinations

During the course, a midterm and final exam will be administered over the course material. The mid-term examination covers the first half of the course. The final examination is comprehensive.

Assignments

Analysis assignments reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

Annotated Bibliography Critical Reviews

In select modules, students will complete short essays focused on specific module content. The purpose of these short essays is to demonstrate understanding and application of concepts covered in the assigned reading, most often in the form of peer-reviewed scholarly journal articles.

Application Assignments and Case Study Analysis

In select modules, students will submit assignments which require direct application of course content in one's profession. Students will produce documents, questionnaires, plans, objectives, or other items to demonstrate understanding of theory and practical application.

Reading Responses

Reading responses are immediate reflective papers based upon current developments in the Third Sector, most often based on professional and normative resources.

Course Content Tab

Every Monday new material will be posted beginning at 12:00 p.m. Central Time. All material for the week will open on Monday at 12:00 p.m. Central Time and will be due the following Sunday at 11:59 p.m. Central Time.

Please include the section number of your course in the subject line when sending your instructor an email.

This course is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting on discussion boards. This endeavor is a senior-level course, and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials graded assignments to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file; you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24 hour period.

Returning of Assignments

I will do my best to have graded assignments back to you within seven working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 PM on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to ONE WEEK past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than a week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Group Project: Students reported by peers as not participating or contributing to the group project may be “fired” from the group at the recommendation of the team and the concurrence of the instructor. Such individuals must complete the entire group project on their own to receive credit.

Course Schedule

A comprehensive course schedule is located in Blackboard under the Course Information tab. The course schedule is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor.

Grading Summary

A list of all required activities for PS 5143 Nonprofit Governance is identified by the module in the Course Schedule. The Course Schedule is available to you in the Course Information folder.

Your final grade is determined by the percentage of total points you earn during the duration of the course. For example, as noted below, a total of 1,350 points are available in the course. To earn a final grade of an A for the course, you must earn a minimum point total of 1,260 points ( $1,400 \times 0.90 = 1,215$ ).

Course Agreement	5
Course Expectations	5
Annotated Bibliography	400
Assignments	140
Discussion Forums	275
Reading Response	200
Mid-Term Case Study	150
Final Exam	175
Total Points:	1,350

Grading Scale (as a percentage of total points)

90-100	=	A
80-89	=	B
70-79	=	C
60-69	=	D
Under 60	=	F

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. Also, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism, and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If at any time during the semester you miss three assignments, you will be referred to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you are unresponsive to the following two class sessions, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with an “F” for excessive absences or non-performance. It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the class and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy that allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You may access current student policies in the Arkansas Tech University Student Handbook

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences that make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

Arkansas Tech University does not discriminate by color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, race, age, national origin, religion, veteran status, genetic information, or disability in any of our practices, policies, or procedures. If you have experienced any form of discrimination or harassment, including sexual misconduct (e.g., sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, domestic or dating violence), we encourage you to report this to the institution. If you report such an incident of misconduct to a faculty or staff member, they are required by law to notify Arkansas Tech University’s Title IX Coordinator and share the basic fact of your experience. The Title IX Coordinator will then be available to assist you in understanding all of your options and in connecting you with all possible resources on and off campus. For more information, please visit: <http://www.atu.edu/titleix/index.php>.

Arkansas Tech University adheres to the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act to prevent barriers to academic accessibility. If you need an accommodation due to a disability, please contact the ATU Office of Disability Services, located in Doc Bryan Student Center, Suite 171, or visit <http://www.atu.edu/disabilities/index.php>

University Testing and Disability Services- <http://www.atu.edu/disabilities/>

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

Will this course require a special classroom (computer lab, smart classroom, or laboratory)?
No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . PS 5343 addresses one or more of the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached PS 5343 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? PS 5343 is proposed as a graduate-level elective course to satisfy requirements for a nonprofit leadership track in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program, as well as an elective option for other graduate-level programs. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.
- An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)

- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

PS 5343: Community Development

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? PS 5343 supports the University mission of providing life-long learning to a diverse community of learners, while striving for the betterment of Arkansas. With its service-learning requirement, PS 5343 addresses plan goal 1.9 in increases high-impact practices for graduate students. PS 5343 focuses on assessment, planning, leadership, financing, and evaluating a community based organization. This course serves as an elective offering in the MA-LLOD degree, as well as other graduate-level programs. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options. PS 5343 increases access to interdisciplinary coursework for graduate students.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: demonstrate knowledge of each phase in the community development process, compare and contrast a needs-based versus an assets based approach to community development, determine the most appropriate approach to community/economic development, apply concepts learned in class to creating a community development plan, apply project-based research principles to positively impact communities, apply community development principles in planning a CBO, build skills as an effective member of a team, demonstrate efficiency in planning and communication, evaluate leadership issues in community development, understand definitions, concepts, and purposes of community and economic development, discuss theories and concepts in community development, complete a service-learning project, reflect on one's role in community.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, f) team-based learning, and g) service-learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail, and service-learning to enhance retention of course concepts through practical application of content.

- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. PS 5343 supports the University mission of providing life-long learning to a diverse community of learners, while striving for the betterment of Arkansas. With its service-learning requirement, PS 5343 addresses plan goal 1.9 in increases high-impact practices for graduate students. Course Description

This course covers the basic principles and issues in community development in the United States. Topics include: community development; community assessment; methods of planning, implementing, and evaluating community based organizations. Students will work individually or in groups to design a non-profit organization based on a community needs assessment. The focus will be on assessment, planning, leadership, financing, and evaluating a community based organization. Participation in course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

Note: This course has a service-learning requirement that can be completed online.

Cross-Listed Course: PS 4343/OL4343

Prerequisites/Co-requisites: Graduate standing.

Required Course Texts:

Kretzmann, J. P. & McKnight, J. L. (1993). Building communities from the inside out: A path toward finding and mobilizing a community's assets. Evanston, IL: ACTA Publishing.

Lambe, W. (2008). Small towns, big ideas: Case studies in small town community economic development. Community Economic Development Program: School of Government, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (book provided)

See course bibliography for other assignment readings available through the ATU Library.

Justification for the Course

This course introduces students to the basic concepts of community development. Course participants examine different aspects of community, including the definition of community, community needs, community assets, and community activism. By understanding how to conduct community based research, how to apply this research, and how to work in a team-oriented environment, participants will learn skills to improve their abilities as professionals and citizens.

Course Objectives
Upon completion of this course with a grade of "C" or above, the student will be able to:
1	Demonstrate knowledge of each phase of the community development process
2	Explain definitions, concepts, and purposes of community and economic development
3	Compare, contrast, and evaluate assets-based and needs-based approaches to community development
4	Design a community development plan collaboratively as a member of a team
5	Analyze leadership issues in the community development process
6	Recommend evidence-based approaches to community development in a given context
7	Apply project-based research principles in the completion of a service-learning project

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Technology Competencies

Students are expected to demonstrate mastery and appropriate application of related technology competencies as determined by the Professional Studies Department. Those competencies include: word processing (MS Office), PowerPoint (2007 version or ability to see later version of power-point), on-line research, email, Blackboard, discussion board postings and list-serve knowledge.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the "Content" tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

Assignments

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

E-mail/Discussion Board Decorum

This is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting to discussion boards. This is a college level course and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file, you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24-hour time period excluding University-observed holidays.

Points

Graded Activity	Points
Discussion	50
Essay Series	100
Team-Based Learning	50
Assignments	50
Service-Learning Project	100
Quizzes	50
Midterm Exam	50
Final Exam	50
Total	500

Grading Scale

90-100 %	=	A
80-89 %	=	B
70-79 %	=	C
60-69 %	=	D
Under 60 %	=	F

Returning of Assignments

Assignments will be graded and returned within 7 working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand, or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 p.m. CT on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment, exercises, and quizzes not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to one week past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than one week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic “F” for the test/assignment in question and possibly an “F” for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. In addition, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If, at any time during the semester, you miss two full modules, your instructor may refer you to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you miss a third full module, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance unless there are extenuating circumstances.

If by the midpoint of the course you have not earned a minimum of 40% of the available points possible, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with a “FE” grade for excessive absences or non-performance.

It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you cannot attend class or are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the course and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy which allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences which make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

University Testing and Disability Services- Link to Disability Services

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

No.
Answer the following Assessment questions:
a. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. N/A
b. If this course is required for the major or minor, complete the following.
1. Provide the program level learning outcome(s) it addresses . PS 5543 addresses the following program level outcomes: Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory; Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication; Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork; Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility; Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking; Awareness of Self and Others; and Financial Literacy.

2. Provide tool or measure directly linked to each program learning outcome. (How will student learning in this outcome be measured?) See attached PS 5543 assessment for alignment of program, course, and module learning objectives. Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- c. What is the rationale for adding this course? What evidence demonstrates this need? PS 5543 is proposed as an elective course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

An EAB market demand study for a master's-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech's service region identified a need for online degree options that focus on leadership, marketed to professionals seeking upward mobility in healthcare, financial management, and other career fields. This master's-level degree program in leadership, and its corresponding leadership certificate, would be the only fully online options available in a seven state region including Arkansas and bordering states. Additionally, the market study identified demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate level soft-skill and leadership elective opportunities for students enrolled in other graduate programs at Arkansas Tech. The results of an internal survey of recent and current BPS students indicated 69 individuals were likely to enroll in the program if offered in Fall 2019. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

For the proposed course, attach a syllabus in Word format that includes: (Items a. through d. should be entered as they should appear in the catalog)

- a. Course subject
- b. Course number
- c. Catalog course title
- d. Catalog description
  1. Arkansas Course Transfer System (ACTS) course number, if applicable
  2. Cross-listing
  3. Offered (e.g., Fall only, Spring only. Do not enter if offer course fall and spring)
  4. Prerequisites
  5. Co-requisites
  6. Description
  7. Notes (e.g., information not in description such as course may be repeated for credit)
  8. Contact Hours if different than lecture (e.g., Lecture three hours, laboratory three hours)
  9. Fees (e.g., $36 art fee)

- e. Section for Name of instructor, office hours, contact information (telephone, email)
- f. Text required for course
- g. Bibliography (supplemental reading list)
- h. Justification/rationale for the course
- i. Course objectives
- j. Description of how course meets general education objectives (courses included in the general education component should show how the course meets one or more of the objectives contained in General Education Objectives listed in undergraduate catalog)
- k. Assessment methods (include grading policy with specific equivalents for A, B, C)
- l. Policy on absences, cheating, plagiarism, etc.
- m. Course content (outline of material to be covered in course).

If this course will affect other departments, a Departmental Support Form for each affected department must be attached. The form is located on the Curriculum forms web page at http://www.atu.edu/registrar/curriculum\_forms.php.

PS 5543: Philanthropy and Fundraising

Our Mission

Tech is dedicated to student success, access, and excellence as a responsive campus community providing opportunities for progressive intellectual development and civic engagement. Embracing and expanding upon its technological traditions, Tech inspires and empowers members of the community to achieve their goals while striving for the betterment of Arkansas, the nation, and the world.

Provide an answer for each question. Your answers are to be typed single spaced.

- a. How does this course fit with the university mission? This course serves as a core offering in the MA-LLOD degree. The MA-LLOD degree supports strategic plan goal 2.6 by increasing academic opportunities for interdisciplinary and stackable degree options.
- b. If this course is mandated by an accrediting or certifying agency, include the directive. If not, state not applicable. Not applicable.
- c. Provide up to three student learning outcomes students will achieve after completing this course? Students will: Assess organizational philanthropic readiness principles and guidelines; apply the fundraising process (research, planning, cultivation, solicitation, stewardship, and evaluation); employ the process of raising external funds, to include elements of a well-developed, comprehensive fundraising plan.
- d. What assessment tool or measure will you use to assess student learning? Student learning will be assessed using a variety of methods. These include: a) discussion boards and other collaborative communication activities, b) tests/quizzes, c) writing assignments, d) prepared oral presentations, e) applied projects, and f) team-based learning.
- e. What will students demonstrate, represent, or produce to provide evidence of their learning? Students will complete a variety of conceptual and applied activities to demonstrate proficiency in course and module level learning objectives. These include completion of tests/quizzes to assess understanding of core concepts and recall of key terminology, application assignments which require the student to apply core concepts in a practical setting, team-based projects designed for students to work together to examine topics in greater detail.
- f. Provide an example or examples of student learning assessment evidence which supports the addition of this course. PS 5543 is proposed as an elective course in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) program. The MA-LLOD and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. Of the 69 interested respondents, 38 provided contact information to receive marketing and recruitment communications.

- g. How does this course fit in the current state of the discipline? Include Arkansas institutional comparisons. If Arkansas educational institutions do not have the course or program provide comparative examples from regional educational institutions. There is not a course or degree equivalent in the state of Arkansas. Regional programs include an MA in Leadership and Organizational Development at Saint Louis University, a MS in Organizational Development and Leadership at University of the Incarnate Word, and a Master of Arts in Learning, Leadership, and Organizational Development at the University of Georgia.

Course Description:

By the completion of this course, students develop a comprehensive understanding of the parameters within which nonprofit managers raise funds. Students examine the parameters within which nonprofit advancement professional solicit and raise funds. Students apply a philanthropic framework that draw upon theories and research from the social and behavioral sciences, as well as a variety of other disciplines. Students apply the holistic concepts of Third Sector advancement and development and create an organization's story by to create effective conveyance of its mission, purpose, program, and efficacy.

Required Texts:

Weinstein, S. (2009). The complete guide to fundraising management (3rd ed). Hoboken, NJ: Wiley & Sons.

Non-text requirement: Collegiate membership to join the Association for Fundraising Professionals (AFP).

Note: Each module will require students to identify and annotate a scholarly peer-reviewed journal article, published within the past five years, for each respective module as part of the team-based learning construct.

Prerequisite Knowledge: This course does not require any prior knowledge for success. As an online course, written dialogue and assignments are the “coin of the realm.” You do not have to be an expert grammarian to succeed. However, you must be professional and attempt to submit work generally free of errors. Proofreading is queen. You must be willing to improve your writing as the course progresses. Those who strive to write professionally enjoy enhanced career success. It is a game-changer for many employers.

Critical Pedagogy:

This course is designed to make you apply critical thinking and problem-solving. The materials in this course examine leadership through equality, liberation, freedom from oppression and anti-marginalization. We will explore leadership through an inclusive lens of many socio-cultural perspectives. Critical pedagogy establishes a learner-to-learner agreement between the instructor and the student. I, as your instructor, intend to learn from you and your lived experience. You are challenged to be active learners and to develop your criticality and creativity. Many of the learning methodologies in this course do not have a “right or a wrong” answer. Your assessment often depends on the depth and content of your response and your willingness to explore the topic through your lens and the lenses of others.

Justification for the Course

If all nongovernmental and civil society organizations were combined into a single economy, it would comprise the 16th largest economy in the world. Nonprofit organizations account for 6% of the United States gross domestic product. A critical component of such organizations is active resource development through multiple avenues, to include planned giving, annual giving, major gifts, and grantsmanship.

Purpose of the Course

While the field of advancement and development is an evolving professional field of study, there is a rich historical, philosophical and theoretical framework that informs the practice of philanthropy. Development and advancement require an understanding of and appreciation for this framework. The ability to generate support is largely impacted by the extent to which you can effectively and powerfully communicate the organization’s case for support. This individual donor (annual giving and major giving) development is the primary focus. Foundations, corporations, and government grants are examined in this context.

Program Outcomes

The MA in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development focuses on advanced topics in leadership theory, adult learning theory, leadership skills, and soft skills applied in business, government, non-profit, and/or educational settings. The 24 credit hour core includes instruction in organizational planning, dynamics of leadership, financial literacy, team building, conflict resolution and mediation, training and development, adult learning theory, communication, and other leadership skills.

1. Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Development Theory – students will review, analyze, and apply prominent theories in leadership, leadership ethics, followership, adult learning, and development to address organizational issues in diverse settings.

2. Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication – students will develop strategic verbal, written, interpersonal, and technological communication functions for leadership, training, and motivation.
3. Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics, and Teamwork – students will identify and implement effective, ethical solutions for complex organizational systems through group dynamics and team building.
4. Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility – students will articulate the impact of social and cultural diversity in organizations.
5. Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking – students will demonstrate ethical, evidenced based decision-making practices based on exploration of issues, collection of evidence, data analysis, critique of sources, and interpretation of results.
6. Awareness of Self and Others – students will develop a sense of self and others through exploration, identification, and articulation of social and cultural norms that form ethics, identity, values, beliefs, and motivations.
7. Financial Literacy – demonstrate competency in basic concepts of budgeting, financial strategy, and financial ethics in a professional setting.

- CLO 1: Analyze charitable giving patterns and trends in philanthropy and the motivations for giving
- CLO 2: Assess organizational philanthropic readiness principles and guidelines
- CLO 3: Apply the fundraising process (research, planning, cultivation, solicitation, stewardship, and evaluation)
- CLO 4: Demonstrate the parameters within which nonprofit managers raise funds
- CLO 5: Analyze the historical, organizational, legal, ethical, and theoretical contexts of fundraising
- CLO 6: Employ the process of raising external funds, to include the elements of a well-developed fundraising plan

- CLO 7: Apply course material (as necessary) to improve critical thinking, problem solving, and decisions regarding nonprofit fundraising

How the Course Meets the General Education Requirements

The general education curriculum at Arkansas Tech University is designed to provide a foundation for knowledge common to educated people and to develop the capacity for individuals to expand that knowledge over his or her lifetime. The University has identified a set of comprehensive goals that will allow students to accomplish these general education objectives. This course addresses the following specific Arkansas Tech University general education goals:

Think critically

Develop ethical perspectives

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, video presentations, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, online discussions, blogs, wikis, journals and individual assignments. Each week, at least, one PowerPoint presentation is available to correlate with the assigned textbook readings.

Course Structure

Part 1 Course Introduction

- Pre-Course Module
- Module 1: Introduction to Fundraising

Part 2

- Module 2: Organizations and the Nonprofit World
- Module 3: Managing the Resource Development Function

Part 3

- Module 4: The Case for Support and Fundraising Materials
- Module 5: Managing Information
- Module 6: Prospect Identification

Part 4: Mid-Term Examination

- Module 7: Mid-Term Examination

Part 5:

- Module 8: Nurturing Relationships
- Module 9: Major Gift Programs

Part 6:

- Module 10: Donor Cultivation and Stewardship
- Module 11: Mail, Telephone, and Digital Solicitation
- Module 12: Special Events and Grantsmanship

Part 7:

- Module 13: Planned Giving
- Module 14: Capital Campaigns and Evaluation

Methodology

The objectives will be achieved through textbook readings, supplemental readings, PowerPoint presentations on assigned topics, on-line discussions, and individual assignments.

Class Lectures

Class lectures will be posted by 9AM Central Time on the first day of the learning module unless noted otherwise. Class lectures can be located in weekly learning modules in Blackboard under the “Content” tab. Typically, modules will be posted by 9 a.m. CT on Mondays and due by 11:59 p.m. CT on Sundays.

Assessments

Throughout the course, assignments will be given to reinforce the student’s understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments will be posted in the “Course Content” tab in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified in the “Tentative Course Schedule and Assignments” section of the syllabus. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard to receive credit.

Team-Based Learning

Team-based learning provides an opportunity for small-group interaction in the virtual space, while creating an avenue for the introduction of the student’s lived-experience in the domain of philanthropy and assessment. Through peer review techniques, students evaluate peer work to enhance peer and self-learning. Team-based learning has the capacity to create transformative outcomes when a new subject offers significant amounts of new, or unfamiliar, material and when students are required to apply the knowledge acquired.

Examinations

During the course, a midterm and final exam will be administered over the course material. The mid-term examination covers the first half of the course. The final examination is comprehensive.

Assignments

Analysis assignments reinforce the student's understanding of the course material as well as to apply different leadership concepts. All assignments can be found in the weekly learning module folder in Blackboard. All assignments will be due by 11:59 p.m. Central Time on the due date specified. All assignments must be submitted through Blackboard in order to receive credit.

Participation/Discussion Board

Each week there is a lecture posted on Blackboard. Some include discussion board questions that I expect you to answer as part of getting the week's participation points. New discussion forums will post on the first day of the learning module. You are expected to make your initial post each week by 11:59 p.m. Central Time three days prior to the end of the module, with all other posts due by 11:59 p.m. on the last day of the learning module. Points will be deducted for each posting that is not submitted. Your answers should be relevant to the discussion topic and demonstrate your understanding of the topic. Participation will be assessed on the extent to which you reply to my questions as well as to the extent that you communicate with your other classmates regarding their posts. Remember, you will get out of the discussion boards what you put into them. Thus, meeting the minimum participation requirements does not mean you will receive full credit each week.

Policy Papers

In select modules, students will complete short essays focused on specific module content. The purpose of these short essays is to demonstrate understanding and application of concepts covered in the learning modules. Essays vary in length from 1500 – 2500 words and must be in APA format.

Change Journal

Over the course of the semester, students will submit entries in a change journal. The change journal provides students with an opportunity to reflect on course concepts and apply course concepts to professional, academic, and personal experiences.

Application Assignments and Case Study Analysis

In select modules, students will submit assignments which require direct application of course content in one's profession. Students will produce documents, questionnaires, plans, objectives, or other items to demonstrate an understanding of theory and practical application.

Personal Code of Ethics

Graduate students must develop a clear and concise knowledge of philanthropic fundraising. During the course of the term, students write a developing Personal Code of Ethics to demonstrate one's ability to analyze any fundraising technique or campaign through a professional ethical lens.

Please include the section number of your course in the subject line when sending your instructor an email.

This course is an online course; therefore, a majority of our conversations will take place via email and discussion board. Please use common sense (no slang, use correct grammar, etc.) when sending emails and posting on discussion boards. This endeavor is a senior-level course, and I expect you to be on a college student level with your postings and emails. I do not expect you to be a perfectionist, but I do expect you to be courteous and respectful.

I will send course materials graded assignments to your ATU e-mail account; therefore, it is necessary that you check your account frequently. To avoid the emails you send going into my junk file; you should use your ATU e-mail account for ALL communications. In most cases, I will respond to your emails within a 24 hour period.

Returning of Assignments

I will do my best to have graded assignments back to you within seven working days. Working days are defined as Monday-Friday, no weekends or holidays.

Make-Up Policy/Late Work

Discussion Board: Discussion board participation will not be accepted past the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency. The discussion board will be made unavailable at 11:59 PM on the due date.

Assignments, Exercises, and Quizzes: Any assignment not submitted by the due date can still be submitted for half credit up to ONE WEEK past the due date. Assignments will not be accepted more than a week past the due date.

Midterm and Final: The midterm and final will not be accepted after the due date except in cases where you have worked something out with me beforehand or if there is a documented emergency.

Group Project: Students reported by peers as not participating or contributing to the group project may be "fired" from the group at the recommendation of the team and the concurrence of the instructor. Such individuals must complete the entire group project on their own to receive credit.

Course Schedule

A comprehensive course schedule is located in Blackboard under the Course Information tab. The course schedule is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor.

Grading Summary

A list of all required activities for PS 4443 Professional Leadership is identified by the module in the Course Schedule. The Course Schedule is available to you in the Course Information folder.

Your final grade is determined by the percentage of total points you earn during the duration of the course. For example, as noted below, a total of 1,100 points are available in the course. To earn a final grade of an A for the course, you must earn a minimum point total of 990 points ( $1,100 \times 0.90 = 990$ )

Policy Papers (4 x 50)	200
Team-Base Learning	200
Personal Code of Ethics	100
Discussion Forums (4 x 25)	100
Case Study	100
Mid-Term Exam	100
Change Journal (2 x 25)	50
Applied Assignments (6 x 25)	150
Final Exam	100
Total Points:	1,100

Grading Scale (as a percentage of total points)

90-100	=	A
80-89	=	B
70-79	=	C
60-69	=	D
Under 60	=	F

Course Policies

Academic Misconduct

University policy will be followed. At a minimum, the student (and any student caught assisting in the misconduct) will be given an automatic "F" for the test/assignment in question and possibly an "F" for the course. Subsequent cases of plagiarism will result in a minimum of one letter grade course reduction for each incident. Also, any student who aids another student in plagiarism (e.g., provides a completed homework assignment to another student for submission) will be treated as also being involved in plagiarism, and appropriate penalties will apply. Egregious cases of plagiarism (i.e., large sections copied from another source) will result in an automatic “F” for the course.

Excessive Unexcused Absences/Missed Assignments

If at any time during the semester you miss three assignments, you will be referred to the Tech Early Warning Program. If you are unresponsive to the following two class sessions, you will be dropped from the course by your instructor with an “F” for excessive absences or non-performance. It is your responsibility to contact the instructor when you are having a problem completing an assignment.

Campus policy outlines the dates for dropping a course with a “W”. If you have a failing score and do not drop before the stated deadline, you will receive an “F” on your transcript for the course; therefore, it is in your best interest to monitor your status in the course and take advantage of the opportunity to withdraw with a “W” rather than remaining in the class and receiving an “F”. Tech has a very lenient withdrawal policy that allows a student to withdraw with a “W” until almost the end of the semester.

You may access current student policies in the Arkansas Tech University Student Handbook

You are responsible for explaining to the instructor the reason for absences due to sickness, accident or death in the family. For absences that make it difficult for you to contact the instructor, such as an emergency, you should contact the Student Services Office, Doc Bryan Student Services Center, Room 233, (479-968-0239) to have the instructor notified.

Arkansas Tech University does not discriminate by color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, race, age, national origin, religion, veteran status, genetic information, or disability in any of our practices, policies, or procedures. If you have experienced any form of discrimination or harassment, including sexual misconduct (e.g., sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, domestic or dating violence), we encourage you to report this to the institution. If you report such an incident of misconduct to a faculty or staff member, they are required by law to notify Arkansas Tech University’s Title IX Coordinator and share the basic fact of your experience. The Title IX Coordinator will then be available to assist you in understanding all of your options and in connecting you with all possible resources on and off campus. For more information, please visit: <http://www.atu.edu/titleix/index.php>.

Arkansas Tech University adheres to the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act to prevent barriers to academic accessibility. If you need an accommodation due to a disability, please contact the ATU Office of Disability Services, located in Doc Bryan Student Center, Suite 171, or visit <http://www.atu.edu/disabilities/index.php>

If a student has a disability that qualifies under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and requires accommodations, he/she should contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services for information on appropriate policies and procedures. Disabilities covered by ADA may include learning, psychiatric, physical disabilities, or chronic health disorders. Students can contact the Office of University Testing and Disability Services if they are not certain whether a medical condition/disability qualifies.

5. PROGRAM SUMMARY

Overview

The Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) and graduate level certificate (CIP 30.9999) provide graduate-level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence-based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This innovative, fully online, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 24 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The MA-LLOD core courses provide graduate-level electives for students in any graduate program at Arkansas Tech.

This degree increases stackability options at the institution; students will be able to earn an undergraduate certificate in Professional Leadership, a baccalaureate in Organizational Leadership, and the MA-LLOD. To increase credentialing opportunities, students can earn a Graduate Level Leadership Certificate by completing the first 18 credit hours of the MA-LLOD core (separate curriculum proposal). According to the Educational Advisory Board (EAB), there is a high demand for online master's degrees. The degree program and the 18 credit hour certificate expand Tech's offering of online graduate programs. This degree program supports Arkansas Tech's strategic plan, goal 2.6, by increasing credentialing opportunities and stackability, and providing interdisciplinary options for students enrolled in Arkansas Tech graduate programs.

Program Costs

Faculty Resources

The program will not require additional full-time faculty in Years 1-3. If the limited use of adjunct faculty is required due program growth, the proposed adjunct faculty must first be granted graduate faculty status by the Graduate Council of Arkansas Tech University. The cost per adjunct faculty member per three-credit course is $2,100 plus benefits. It is estimated adjunct faculty costs will not exceed $15,000 in the first three years; however, any such required adjunct faculty expenditures will be offset by additional tuition revenue.

Library Resources

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technology Center at Arkansas Tech University provides extensive online access to students for the relevant peer-reviewed academic journals necessary to support the proposed program.

Facilities and Equipment

No new or renovated facilities (or associated costs) are required for the proposed program.

Purpose of the Program

The MA-LLOD program, with a core focus on organizational leadership and organizational development, allows students to develop effective leadership at all organizational levels, manage teams, make strategic decisions, design and evaluate organizational training and development, and communicate effectively in diverse professional settings. The proposed degree allows graduates to impact an organization's culture, productivity, and team strength.

The MA-LLOD proposes to develop T-shaped professionals, individuals who possess a number of soft skills that allow organizational collaboration at the "T-top") combined with a knowledge of a skills, process, product or body of work (the "T-stem").

Source: Educational Advisory Board (EAB)

According to the Educational Advisory Board (EAB, 2014), an individual's "T-shape" is developed over the course of one's education and career; however, "students who possess a mix of their "T-top" and "T-stem" skills upon graduation face the most promising short- and long-term employment prospects." Employers in the 21st century seek educated employees who effectively integrate human interaction and problem-solving skills as well as content knowledge.

The most effective educators are capable of reaching beyond the classroom to reach their students. Teaching methods for future leaders must be innovative, hands-on, and pragmatic. As we learned from Zemke and Zemke (1995), adult learning and training should be problem-centered, exercises and cases should be experiential, should promote integration with feedback and recognition being a focal point of the methodology.

Design thinking for educators embodies these tenants within their four processes:

1. Lead with empathy
2. Challenge assumptions
3. Make experiments happen
4. Share your process

Lead with empathy – Leaders and trainers must effectively "put themselves in the student's shoes." As suggested by Wise (2006), educators must "immerse yourself in how others experience your program." By doing so, the trainer gets a practical sense of what is necessary for the course.

Challenge assumptions – Providing materials that challenge the learners to question their assumptions and epistemology. This promotes critical thinking.

Make experiments happen – Experiments should be grounded in real-life and relatable exercises and cases. Learning and training for adults is best when the participants feel invested in the experiments.

Share your process – Feedback and recognition are a necessary process in learning and training. Provide positive feedback with recommendations. Educators should share their own experiences both positive and negative. Throughout the previous processes, educators should also give the learners the opportunity to share their experiences with the class.

This process is continuous.

As an andragogical approach, the MA-LLOD faculty at Arkansas Tech University intend to utilize their individual and collective academic preparation in organizational development, adult learning theory, training and development, program assessment and evaluation, diversity and inclusion, and evidence-based research to design and deliver a curriculum designed for the adult learner, with the integration of team-based learning and design-thinking principles. The educational benefits of team-based learning including understanding the course content, applying the course content to problem-solving and decision-making, developing skills for effectively working on a team, and valuing the team approach to solving complex intellectual tasks. In its most simple form, design-thinking is problem-solving with an empathic paradigm: understanding a stakeholder's problem before creating solutions. Design thinking guides individuals to lead teams and organizations through purpose.

List degree programs or emphasis areas currently offered at the institution that support the proposed program.

The Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD) prepares individuals to lead change, motivate groups, create solutions, communicate effectively, resolve organizational challenges through critical, strategic and creative thinking. The program allows for customization based upon the professional and career development needs of the student. As such, the MA-LLOD is supported by any degree or career-field with a need to work with individuals and teams within an organization in directing change and development.

6. NEED FOR THE PROGRAM

The Department of Professional Studies utilized the Educational Advisory Board's (EAB) research component to conduct an analysis of employer demand and competitor programs for the proposed graduate certificate and graduate degree in leadership, learning, and organizational development. The market analysis region included Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas. EAB reports rely primarily on labor market data from the Burning Glass Labor/Insight tools, as well as the United States Census Bureau, the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS).

- Arkansas Market: Arkansas Tech University's statewide program recognition and the relative proximity of the institution to the Little Rock, AR MSA and the Northwest Arkansas MSA (1,500 plus employment openings (both rank among the 20 MSAs with the most program demand).
- Regional Markets: Target marketing efforts to prospective students in metropolitan areas in Texas with high employer demand. Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) in Texas account for three regional MSAs with the most demand (25,000 plus employment openings): Dallas-Fort Worth-Arlington, TX; Houston-The Woodlands-Sugar Land, TX; and Austin-Round Rock, TX. One of the top 10 regional MSAs with the most relevant employment opening is the Memphis-TN-MS-AR MSA.
- Program Structure: A fully or partly online delivery can serve working professionals who must balance academic work with other obligations. A fully online curriculum can distinguish a program at Arkansas Tech University from profiled regional competitors.
- Curriculum: Allow students to complete electives or concentrations so they can customize the program to fit their goals and interests.
- Marketing: Highlight the ability of a masters-level program to serve working professionals to attract prospective students.
- Demand Over Time: Regional and statewide demand for a masters-level program increase slightly between 2013-2017; however, the Bureau of Labor Statistics projects an above average increase in employment in multiple relevant occupations nationally between 2016 and 2026. Additionally, the program should be marketed to professionals in healthcare to attract prospective students. Health care employers account for five of the top 20 employers with relevant skills, and professionals in the healthcare field can enroll to gain or hone in-demand skills.

- Include courses on finance to align with employer demand: Professionals who seek skills necessary to advance their careers, including financial management skills (e.g., budgeting).

Provide names and types of organizations/businesses surveyed.

The Needs Assessment Survey for the MA-LLOD program was electronically delivered via QuestionPro to 328 employers. The comprehensive list of organizations survey may be found in Appendix 1. The response rate from the targeted employer set was low (2%, N=6). However, two employers indicated 10 or more organizational positions align with the MA-LLOD program. Three of six employers indicated they would give hiring preference to applicants with an MA-LLOD as proposed. The Survey Report is located in Appendix Appendix 1.

Describe what need the proposed program will address and how the institution became aware of this need.

In addition to mid-career professionals, a primary regional target population for the MA-LLOD is Training and Development Supervisors (Bureau of Labor Statistics 13-1511) and Training and Development Managers (Bureau of Labor Statistics 11-3131). Training and Development Managers primarily plan, direct, or coordinate the training and development activities and staff of an organization. Representative positions include, but are not limited to:

- Development Manager
- Education and Development Manager
- Education Director
- Learning and Development Director
- Learning Manager
- Staff Training and Development Manager
- Training and Development Director

The tasks expected of Training and Development Managers include, but are not limited to,

- Analyze training needs to develop new training programs or modify and improve existing programs.
- Evaluate instructor performance and the effectiveness of training programs, providing recommendations for improvement.
- Plan, develop, and provide training and staff development programs, using knowledge of the effectiveness of methods such as classroom training, demonstrations, on-the-job training, meetings, conferences, and workshops.
- Prepare training budget for department or organization.

- Confer with management and conduct surveys to identify training needs based on projected production processes, changes, and other factors.
- Develop and organize training manuals, multimedia visual aids, and other educational materials.
- Develop testing and evaluation procedures.
- Train instructors and supervisors in techniques and skills for training and dealing with employees.
- Conduct orientation sessions and arrange on-the-job training for new hires.
- Conduct or arrange for ongoing technical training and personal development classes for staff members.
- Review and evaluate training and apprenticeship programs for compliance with government standards.

Appendix 2 provides detailed information regarding the knowledge, skills, and abilities expected of a Training and Development Manager.

19% of Training and Development Manager positions require a Master's degree, and an additional 15% of positions require a post-baccalaureate certificate (O*Net, 2018).

Date extracted from the Bureau of Labor Statistics (www.bls.gov, 2018) indicates approximately 260 Training and Development Managers (Standard Occupational Classification Code 113131) exist in Arkansas, with an additional 4,130 positions located in the six states geographically contiguous to Arkansas.

Arkansas	260	100630
Louisiana	350	78580
Mississippi	160	93520
Missouri	440	110680
Oklahoma	370	87910
Tennessee	1170	94130
Texas	1640	133060

(1) Estimates for detailed occupations do not sum to the totals because the totals include occupations not shown separately. Estimates do not include self-employed workers.

(2) Annual wages have been calculated by multiplying the mean hourly wage by 2,080 hours.

Second careers in aging services present one example as to how the MA-LLOD and its interdisciplinary component will appeal to multiple mid-career professionals. Despite a generational shift to an aging population in the United States, driving an unprecedented demand for aging services, the interest in academic gerontology programs has steadily declined. A study published by the Educational Advisory Board (2014) noted: “Hospitals, insurance companies, and private practices seek health coaches, roles that require a mix of chronic care management and communications, in addition to some IT knowledge” (9). Furthermore, the study indicated programs offering individuals an opportunity to prepare for patient advocacy, health coaching, motivational wellness, aging in place, and financial planning would appeal to mid- or late-career professionals with some background in one of these fields. Finally, the EAB study indicated the market for such a program includes individuals who served in a related profession (e.g., financial planners, interior designers), but also includes those whose service to an aging family member who found the role fulfilling enough to pursue an encore career.

Indicate the composition of the program advisory committee, including the number of members, professional background of members, topics to be considered by the members, meeting schedule (annually, bi-annually, quarterly), institutional representative, etc.

Professional Studies Advisory Board Membership (2018-2019)

Alex Averitt, Chief Operating Officer, Bluelinx Holdings, Inc.

The Department of Professional Studies Advisory Board meets on the Arkansas Tech University campus each May and December. As its mission, The Professional Studies Advisory Board offers its experience, expertise, and energy to promote engagement between PS alumni, PS students, potential students and community leaders by providing opportunities for networking and professional development.

PS Advisory Board Objectives

- Foster connections
- Access additional resources
- Generate ideas that enhance the Professional Studies experience
- Strengthen the broader Professional Studies community

Advisory Board members represent a cross-section of business, industry, labor, and professions relevant to the academic programs of the Department of Professional Studies. The diversity of viewpoints is an important aspect of the board's function. Perspectives and experiences based on veteran status, gender, race, ethnicity, geographic location, age and other related qualities will be an important aspect in selecting members. Prospective Advisory Board members are identified by the existing board or team members of the Department of Professional Studies. The suggested number of board members should be from 12-15 people. Advisory Board members will serve two-year terms with the possibility of renewal for additional terms based on interest, involvement, and at the discretion of the Department of Professional Studies. A dedicated board position will be established for one current student pursuing a degree in the Department of Professional Studies. Also, current students and program faculty will be invited and encouraged to attend meetings.

The Advisory Board is non-voting and will not engage in decision-making related to program personnel, budget or internal policy development within the partner institutions. Upon initiation of the MA-LLOD program, the Professional Studies Advisory Board will expand its membership to include additional voices related to training and development professionals and expertise related to the interdisciplinary coursework.

The Professional Studies Advisory Board Guide is located in Appendix 8.

Indicate the projected number of program enrollments for Years 1 - 3.

Projected Annual Enrollment

2019 – 2020 15 students

2020 – 2021 30 students

2021 - 2022 45 students

Indicate the projected number of program graduates in 3-5 years.

It is estimated the average student in the MA-LLOD program will be a part-time graduate student, as the program facilitates the needs of individuals currently in the workplace or who are mid-career. It is anticipated the typical MA-LLOD will complete 6-12 graduate hours each year.

As a conservative estimate, it is projected 30 students will earn the MA-LLOD by AY 2024.

Give the total number of semester credit hours required for the program, including prerequisite courses.

The MA-LLOOD requires completion of 33 graduate-level credit hours. Prerequisite courses are not required of entering students.

Identify new courses (in italics) and provide course descriptions.

LLOD 5003 Foundations of Organizational Leadership and Learning

This course presents a broad survey of leadership theory and competencies in the private and nonprofit sector. Topics include the examination of leadership models, nonprofit and community leadership, workplace learning, supervision, organizational development and change, globalization and diversity, and organizational leadership competencies. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5013 Adult Learning, Training, and Development

This course is designed to introduce students to training and development in organizations. Students will learn about practical approaches and models for employee training, coaching, mentoring, and performance improvement in a workplace setting. Topics include strategic training, training design, training methods, evaluation, diversity training, and ethics. Participation in the course requires access to a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5023 Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility

Ethics and social responsibility often coincide. In this course, students will examine the real-life ethical and social issues that organizational leaders constantly face. Using theoretical frameworks, students will assess current issues and provide logical recommendations for issues that may arise. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5033 Organizational Diversity and Inclusion

Organizational Diversity and Inclusion will explore and examine the dynamics of diversity and inclusion practices in an organizational environment. Students will become familiar with the theoretical and practical implications of diversity and inclusion and how to include it in their leadership skills. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6003 Leading Organizational Change

This course is designed to provide students with both the conceptual framework and the practical skills needed to design, implement, evaluate, and lead effective organizational change. Over time everything changes, even organizations. Good leaders do not wait for change; they encourage and facilitate it. In this course, students will concentrate on becoming effective change agents. Students will explore how to assess organizations for change, become familiar with behavioral theories for individual and organizational change, and implement the process for organizational change. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6013 Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution

Conflicts are an unavoidable part of life; whether at home, the classroom, or the office. The Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution course is designed to prepare organizational leaders with the theoretical and practical knowledge to work through difficult conversations and become problem-solvers and change agents for their workplace. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6023 Evidence-Based Decision Making

This course presents students with evidence-based frameworks used in leadership practices to make sound decisions. Topics including defining objectives, collecting relevant, reliable information, generating feasible options, making the decision, implementation, and evaluating results, as well as forward-based decision making and intuition. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6033 Research Methods and Writing

Research Methods and Writing covers skills in quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods research. Students will become familiar with research design, methodology, data collection, data management, data analysis, and reporting results. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6043 Organizational Leadership and Learning Capstone

In Organizational Leadership and Learning Capstone, students will demonstrate mastery in leadership, adult learning, and organizational development theory and practice through completion of either a master's thesis or comprehensive exams. Students will select a thesis or comprehensive exam track. Students selecting to complete a master's thesis will develop a research project. Comprehensive exam students will submit extensive, data-supported responses to four questions regarding theory and practice in organizational leadership, adult learning, and organizational development. All students will complete an electronic portfolio highlighting academic and professional competencies. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6883 Special Problems in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development

Special problems in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development is designed to address current issues and topics relevant to leadership, learning, and organizational development. Content is determined by contemporary trends and timely issues. Note: Since the topic for the course will vary each time offered, a student can repeat this course, earning a maximum of six (6) graduate credit hours.

LLOD 6891-6984 Independent Study in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development

Open to graduate students who wish to pursue individual study or investigation of some facet of knowledge, which complements the purpose of the University's graduate program. Students will be required to plan their studies and prepare formal written reports of their findings. Note: The selected topic may not constitute any duplication of study leading to the accomplishment of a thesis. Note: May be repeated for credit (up to six hours).

LLOD 6991-6993 Thesis Continuation in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development

This course allows students additional time to research, write, and complete the thesis requirement.

PS 5143 Nonprofit Governance

This course examines the theoretical, philosophical, practical and ethical perspectives related to the effective management and leadership of nonprofit organizations in the twenty-first century. Upon completion of the course, the student will possess an understanding of 1) the historical development of the nonprofit sector, 2) the multiple rationales for the existence of the nonprofit sector, 3) the distinctive characteristics of nonprofit organizations, 4) the structures, processes and complexities of organizational governance shared by volunteer board members and professional staff, 5) the dynamic environment of the contemporary nonprofit organization, and 6) the current issues of importance to nonprofit decision makers.

PS 5343      Community Development

This course covers the basic principles and issues in community development in the United States. Topics include community development; community assessment; methods of planning, implementing, and evaluating community-based organizations. Students will work individually or in groups to design a non-profit organization based on a community needs assessment. The focus will be on assessment, planning, leadership, financing, and evaluating a community-based organization. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology. Note: This course has a service-learning requirement that can be completed online.

PS 5543      Philanthropy and Fundraising

By the completion of this course, students develop a comprehensive understanding of the parameters within which nonprofit managers raise funds. Students examine the parameters within which nonprofit advancement professional solicit and raise funds. Students apply a philanthropic framework that draw upon theories and research from the social and behavioral sciences, as well as a variety of other disciplines. Students apply the holistic concepts of Third Sector advancement and development and create an organization's story by to create effective conveyance of its mission, purpose, program, and efficacy.

State the program admission requirements.

The MA-LLOD admission requirements, as proposed for the institutional academic catalog are as follows.

Graduate College Application Process

- Applicants must pay a $40.00 nonrefundable application fee directly to the Graduate College.
- Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college verified by an official transcript.
- Applicants must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 on the last 30 hours of undergraduate work or hold a graduate degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Applicants must request a complete undergraduate official transcript from their bachelor's awarding institution sent directly to the Graduate College.

After students apply to the Graduate College, you will then apply to the Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development program for an admissions decision. In addition to the Graduate College requirements (listed above),

- Applicants must submit a letter of intent, which is at least 1500 words and addresses: career goals, interest in obtaining a graduate degree, interest in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development, and research interests.
- Applicants must submit a resume or vita.

ATU Graduate College, 1507 North Boulder Avenue, Tomlinson 113, Russellville, AR 72801.

Or emailed to: gradcollege@atu.edu

Unconditional Admission

Students are eligible to apply for unconditional admission to the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (LLOD) if they meet all of the following requirements. Additionally, all application credentials are examined by the Graduate Program Director and the Graduate Program Admission Committee when determining admission status.

Applicants must meet the admission requirements for the Graduate College. Minimum undergraduate cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or 3.0 on last 30 hours. Statement of intent which addresses career goals, interests in leadership, learning, and organizational development, and research interests. Resume or vitae. Approval from the Program Director.

Applicants who fail to meet all requirements specified for unconditional admission may be admitted conditionally to enroll for a maximum of twelve semester hours if they meet the minimum requirements for graduate admission and have the approval of the program director. If a student was admitted conditionally based on grade point average, the condition will be met if upon completion of twelve semester hours a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or better is achieved.

After completion of Research Methods and Writing (LLOD 6033), students choose to pursue either an original research thesis or comprehensive exams. Thesis students will select a chair. The chairperson will assist thesis students in building a thesis committee. The Program Director will assist the student in designing a curriculum of study leading to the fulfillment of degree requirements. Additionally, the Program Director and the Graduate College will monitor the student's progress. Ultimately, it remains the student's responsibility to understand and to satisfy all degree requirements.

Include a copy of the course evaluation to be completed by the student.

The evaluation instrument for both a course and the respective instructor may be found in Appendix 3.

Provide institutional curriculum committee review/approval date for proposed program.

The Arkansas Tech University Graduate Council reviewed the proposed program on August 21, 2018.

8. FACULTY

List the names and credentials of all faculty teaching courses for the proposed program. Include college/university awarding degree; degree level; degree field; subject area of courses faculty currently teaching and/or will teach. (For associate degrees and above: A minimum of one full-time faculty member with appropriate academic credentials is required.)

Dr. Jeremy Schwehm, Associate Professor of Professional Studies

University of Georgia, Ph.D., Adult Education
Northwestern State University, M.A., Adult Education
Louisiana State University, B.A., Psychology

Dr. Tennille Lasker-Scott, Assistant Professor of Professional Studies

University of Georgia, Ph.D., Adult Education
University of Georgia, Graduate Certificate, Interdisciplinary Qualitative Research
University of Arkansas – Little Rock, M.E., Adult Education
University of Arkansas –Little Rock, BBA, Human Resources Management Emphasis

Indicate the lead faculty member or program coordinator for the proposed program.

Dr. Jeremy Schwehm, Associate Professor of Professional Studies

Total number of faculty required for program implementation, including the number of existing faculty and number of new faculty. For new faculty, provide the expected credentials/experience and expected hire date.

Total number of faculty required for program implementation: 2

Total number of existing faculty: 2

Number of new faculty: 0

For proposed graduate programs: Provide the curriculum vita for faculty teaching in the program, and the expected credentials for new faculty and expected hire date. Also, provide the projected startup costs for faculty research laboratories, and the projected number of and costs for graduate teaching and research assistants.

Appendix 4: Curriculum vita for faculty

Projected Research Laboratory Start-Up: Not applicable

9. DESCRIPTION OF RESOURCES

Current library resources in the field.

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technical Center maintains active virtual subscriptions to an extensive collection of peer-reviewed scholarly journals to support the MA-LLOD. Historically, the Professional Studies faculty collaborates with the research librarians to develop a subject-matter specific research guide for selected courses. Such a research guide will be developed for each Department of Professional Studies course within the MA-LLOD.

Representative journal holdings include:

Advancing Women in Leadership

Development and Learning in Organizations

E-journal of Organizational Learning and Leadership

European Journal of Training and Development

International Journal of Leadership in Public Services

International Journal of Training and Development

International Journal of Organizational Theory and Development

International Journal of Learner Diversity and Identities

New instructional resources required, including costs and acquisition plan.

Not applicable.

10. NEW PROGRAM COSTS – Expenditures for the first 3 years.

New administrative costs (number and position titles of new administrators).

The program does not require any new administrative costs.

Number of new faculty (full-time and part-time) and costs.

The program will not require additional full-time faculty in Years 1-3. If the limited use of adjunct faculty is required due program growth, the proposed adjunct faculty must first be granted graduate faculty status by the Graduate Council of Arkansas Tech University. The cost per adjunct faculty member per three-credit course is $2,100 plus benefits. It is estimated adjunct faculty costs will not exceed $15,000 in the first three years; however, any such required adjunct faculty expenditures will be offset by additional tuition revenue.

New library resources and costs.

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technology Center at Arkansas Tech University provides extensive online access to students for the relevant peer-reviewed academic journals necessary to support the proposed program.

New/renovated facilities and costs.

There are no new or renovated facilities (or associated costs) required for the proposed program.

New instructional equipment and costs.

No new instructional equipment (or associated costs) required for the proposed program.

Distance delivery costs (if applicable).

Arkansas Tech University delivers multiple degree programs via distance delivery. The necessary distance delivery infrastructure, as well as the required ancillary supports, are in place to support the proposed program and expected enrollment in the first three years.

11. SOURCE OF PROGRAM FUNDING – Income for the first 3 years of program operation.

If there will be a reallocation of funds, indicate from which department, program, etc.

A reallocation of funds is not required or required to support the first three years of the proposed MA-LLOD program. With conservative expectations of enrollment in Years 1-3, the identified members of the Professional Studies faculty will dedicate one course per term in his or her existing 4/4 instructional load.

Provide the projected annual student enrollment, the amount of student tuition per credit hour, and the total cost of the program that includes tuition and fees.

Projected Annual Enrollment

2019 – 2020 15 students

2020 – 2021 30 students

2021 - 2022 45 students

Tuition per credit hour (2018 – 2019): $284.00 per credit hour

Total program costs (based on 2018 – 2019 tuition and fees):

$11,888.25 (33 credit-hour program)

Indicate the projected annual state general revenues for the proposed program (Provide the amount of state general revenue per student).

Arkansas Tech University currently receives $3,753 per student FTE from the State of Arkansas.

15 student state general revenue: $52,295

30 student state general revenue: $112,590

45 student state general revenue: $164,885

Other (grants [list grant source & amount of grant], employers, special tuition rates, mandatory technology fees, program specific fees, etc.).

Technology Operations Fee $16.50 per Credit Hour

Online/ Mixed Technology Fe $10.00 per Credit Hour

12. ORGANIZATIONAL CHART REFLECTING NEW PROGRAM

The Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning and Organizational Development will be housed in the Department of Professional Studies, College of eTech.

The current organizational chart and proposed organizational chart may be found in Appendix 5.

13. SPECIALIZED REQUIREMENTS

Specialized accreditation is not applicable to this program.

14. BOARD OF TRUSTEES APPROVAL

Provide the date that the Board approved (or will consider) the proposed program.

August 23, 2018

Provide a copy of the Board meeting agenda that lists the proposed program, and written documentation of program/unit approval by the Board of Trustees prior to the Coordinating Board meeting that the proposal will be considered.

Provide a copy of the e-mail notification to other institutions in the state notifying them of the proposed program. Please inform institutions not to send the response to “Reply All”. If you receive an objection/concern(s) from an institution, reply to the institution and copy ADHE on the email. That institution should respond and copy ADHE. If the objection/concern(s) cannot be resolved, ADHE may intervene.

The following email notification was distributed by Arkansas Tech University on June 25, 2018.

“This email is a notification that Arkansas Tech University is proposing a Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD). Arkansas Tech University is interested in receiving comments or feedback about the programs from you. ADHE requested through e-mail communications that you not “Reply All” when sending your response about the program. If you have an objection, concern, or comment, please reply to me and copy ADHE.

The Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (CIP 52:0213) provides instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, diversity and inclusion, ethics, social responsibility and evidence-based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles and higher levels of organizational responsibility in diverse professional settings. This innovative, interdisciplinary degree program consists of 27 credit hours of leadership-focused core. Students select nine credit hours of graduate-level electives from a non-LLOD discipline, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. An EAB market demand study for a masters-level leadership program in Arkansas Tech’s service region identified a demand for interdisciplinary coursework within a leadership program from which students can select customizable course options to meet specific educational and professional goals.”

20. INSTRUCTION BY DISTANCE TECHNOLOGY

Summarize institutional policies on the establishment, organization, funding and management of distance courses/degrees.

Following approval by Academic Affairs and the Dean, adequate time is made available to the faculty member(s) to develop/revise current and new distance courses. Under contract terms, the employee is paid for the development of the course. The University provides all resources for the work, and the work is carried out as a part of the faculty member's assigned time. When the University contracts with an employee for the development of a specific online course, it is considered a work made for hire for two years from the date the course is first offered.

Describe the internal organizational structure that coordinates (development, technical support, oversight) distances courses/degrees.

Each college decides which existing/new degree(s) they would like offered online and they are tasked with following steps for approval (e.g., meeting accreditation standards, acquiring consent from the University, seeking approval from the Department of Higher Education, etc.).

Development and oversight of eTech courses are handled by the College of eTech while Web courses are managed within departments. Faculty work with Instructional Designers and a Multimedia Coordinator to create quality online courses that meet the goals and objectives of eTech's revised Blackboard Rubric. Technical support is facilitated by the Office of Information Systems (Support Services for Tier I, Technology Learning Resources for Tier II & III)

Technical support for ATU's e-learning platform is provided by the Office of Information System (OIS), which has a 24/7 Campus Support Center to field technical calls/visits and provide Tier I support. Tier II and III support of the LMS is provided by a Course Management Systems team within OIS

The Office of Information Systems strives to maintain a sound technical structure in which to nurture scholastic development. We maintain a high level of integrity and professionalism across all areas of our operation: Networked Systems, Administrative Systems, and Support Services.

Networking Resources

- The core network backbone is 20Gbit fiber with multiple buildings connected at 10Gbit, and all others are connected with at least 1Gbit links.
- Arkansas Tech is also connected to the Arkansas Research and Education Optical Network (ARE-ON) with redundant 10Gbit links.
- All residence halls and most academic buildings have 5ghz standard wireless access available.
- Arkansas Tech provides each student with 50GB of email storage space and 1TB of cloud storage in OneDrive through Office 365.

- In addition, the students are provided with 5GB of network storage space that is for their personal use.

Computer Labs

- Our campus maintains 41 computer labs housed across almost every academic building. These labs collectively contain over 1, 108 computer workstations.
- About 40% of these stations are zero clients and are centrally managed.
- Many computer labs are used as classrooms but are available to students when classes are not in session.
- Eight labs (158 workstations) are dedicated for students only. The majority of these labs are located in the Ross Pendergraft Library & Technology Center, where student satisfaction is highly monitored.
- OIS/Support Services evaluates all campus computer labs before each fall term. Computers and virtual machines are assessed for their age, warranty status, usage volume, and compatibility with the software needed for teaching and student use. Equipment is replaced and/or repurposed in order to provide the maximum benefit for learning purposes.

Software

- All computer labs contain a core image of commonly used software.
- Additional software per lab is requested by faculty members and accommodated on a semester-by-semester basis.
- Students are also provided with the software they need through virtual machines that are available from anywhere in the world.
- Engineering students share a dedicated pool of virtual machines specifically imaged with the software used in their classes, while all students have access to a pool of virtual machines with our core software.
- Access to Office 2016 Professional is available to students through Office 365.

Computer Support Services

- The Campus Support Center operates 24/7 where faculty/staff/students can receive telephone and/or remote assistance from a live ATU Customer Support Representative.
- Support is provided for connectivity issues, common Blackboard needs, and a wide variety of other technical related problems.
- Hands-on technical assistance is available during normal working hours to service labs, desktop computers, AV equipment, instructor stations, and network functions.

Distance Learning

- Development and oversight of courses are handled by the College of eTech. Technical support is provided by the Office of Information Systems (Support Services for general issues and Technology Learning Resources for advanced needs).

- Two maintenance windows are available each year (summer break and winter break) in which updates to our current release, or vetted new releases, from Blackboard Learn are applied.
- We purposefully stay one or two releases behind the most recent available release to allow for proper vetting before it is applied to our production environment. However, we always stay on a release supported by Blackboard.
- All services are handled in-house with the exception of some course materials that are obtained from third-party publishers.

Security

- All information pertaining to students and employees is stored in a secured database (Banner). Access to that information is granted to only those employees who need the information to complete responsibilities of their job position (least privileges methodology).
- ATU endeavors to follow all state and federal government guidelines (FERPA and HIPAA) pertaining to student information.

Summarize the policies and procedures to keep the technology infrastructure current.

ATU's Learning Management System (LMS) is Blackboard Learn, being hosted by Blackboard via their Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) delivery method, utilizing Amazon Web Services datacenters, and deployed with a Continuous Delivery method that provides application updates on a monthly basis.

Summarize the procedures that assure the security of personal information.

In regards to the Learning Management System (LMS), please see Appendix X for a complete description of Blackboard's security practices.

Provide a list of services that will be outsourced to other organizations (course materials, course management and delivery, technical services, online payment, student privacy, etc.).

No components of the MA-LLOD degree program or any ancillary service will be outsourced to a third-party. The College of eTech does not outsource services to other organizations for course management or delivery. Technical Support Services are also not outsourced. Currently, student tuition online payments go through a PCI compliant payment processing center. Some course materials are obtained from third-party publishers.

Security

Security is top of mind at Blackboard.

Blackboard is vigilant about building security into our products and providing prompt and carefully tested product updates.

Blackboard follows industry accepted security practices. Blackboard Learn is developed according to a set of security engineering guidelines. These guidelines are derived from many organizations such as the Open Web Application Security Project (OWASP), including specific countermeasures for OWASP Top Ten vulnerabilities. Blackboard incorporates these security practices in all phases of the software development lifecycle (SDLC).

Application code

The SaaS application code has been built with security in mind. The Security Team has been involved in the full SDLC to ensure we build security in from the very beginning, following our Security Assurance Program. We have adopted new technologies and taken advantage of their built-in security features and best practices.

Ensuring security

Blackboard uses several methods to protect our applications including "top-down" security assessments through Threat Modeling and analysis. We also use "bottom-up" code-level threat detection through static analysis, dynamic analysis, and manual penetration testing.

Blackboard follows best practice guidance from many organizations to help strengthen the security of Blackboard Learn's product and program, including:

- National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST)
- European Network and Information Security Agency (ENISA)
- SANS Institute Open Web Application Security Project (OWASP)
- Cloud Security Alliance (CSA)

Security threats and countermeasures surrounding Learning Management Systems are ever-changing. Thus, Blackboard regularly assesses its Product Security Roadmap.

Security Management - Data Use and Privacy Disclosure

Secure Configuration Checklist

Security Assurance

Blackboard built security into Blackboard Learn from the beginning. The following items present the security measures and practices Blackboard put in place to secure the SaaS offering.

Network security

Secure communication

The Learn SaaS offering secures all communication over the Internet with Transport Layer Security (TLS) technology. TLS ensures that a communication is not read or changed by another entity. Blackboard Learn uses TLS to secure communications between the Web server and the client machine; e.g., a browser.

The SaaS offering requires TLS system-wide by default. TLS terminates at the Amazon Elastic Load Balancer (ELB). TLS certificates require 2048-bit encryption.

Minimum attack surface area

The Learn SaaS offering customer instances terminate TLS at the Amazon Elastic Load Balancer (ELB). Thus, the only assets with inbound access are the ELBs. The available ports are 80 (http) and 443 (https).

Access to port 80 causes a redirect to port 443, meaning secure communication over TLS. All other ports are inaccessible externally, as Blackboard enforces a default-deny firewall policy for the Learn SaaS offering by leveraging the full power of AWS Security Groups. Moreover, the Learn SaaS offering places all non-ELB infrastructure in a private subnet, completely removed from the Internet.

Access management

Customer administrative access

Customers can access their Learn SaaS offering instances using only the web interface over TLS. For security reasons, customers cannot access their instances using command-line or back-end access.

Blackboard administrative access

Application access

Only authorized Blackboard staff may access the Learn SaaS offering instances via the web interface over TLS.

Back-end access

A limited set of staff would have command-line and back-end access through the use of SSH keys. Access is only possible via SSH keys, a more secure method of access versus username/passwords. Keys are managed by a small group and can be revoked at any time.

Console access

Blackboard access to the Amazon Web Services web console requires multi-factor authentication (MFA.)

Disaster recovery

Database resiliency and backups

The Learn SaaS offering uses the PostgreSQL as the database. Blackboard's PostgreSQL database service provides enhanced availability and durability such that in the event of a database failure, the service would cut-over to an alternate availability zone. Our PostgreSQL database service also takes nightly backups.

Backups are stored in a medium that provides extremely high durability. The Learn SaaS offering does not use database encryption at rest at this time.

The Learn SaaS offering uses access control to protect the database. Access to the database is not available externally and limited to authorized Blackboard staff.

File system resiliency and backups

The Learn SaaS offering uses Amazon Simple Storage Service (S3) for backups of critical file system data. This data is backed up every 5 minutes. S3 offers "11 nines of data durability.

Backups are not encrypted at this time though Blackboard is evaluating this as part of its Learn SaaS offering roadmap. Backups are not accessible externally and access is limited to authorized Blackboard staff.

Security auditing

Customers have access to the Blackboard Learn application-level logs through the System Admin panel's integrated Kibana interface. Customers will be able to review security logs as described here: Audit and Accountability.

The Learn SaaS offering leverages powerful AWS auditing tools, including, S3, CloudWatch, CloudTrail, and TrustedAdvisor.

Built with security in mind, verified by a third party

Blackboard partnered with Amazon to ensure we built the Learn SaaS offering on a sound foundation of AWS best-practices from the start. Blackboard subsequently engaged a third party auditor to specifically focus on the Learn SaaS AWS deployment. These two approaches taken together ensure our highest confidence in the security of our SaaS offering.

DDoS countermeasures

Partnering with AWS for Learn SaaS offers many advantages of scale, efficiency, and security. One clear advantage area presents itself when leveraging the high availability infrastructure on which AWS is built. For example, The Learn SaaS offering benefits from the DDoS countermeasures provided natively by AWS.

All other ports are inaccessible externally, as Blackboard enforces a default-deny firewall policy for the Learn SaaS offering by leveraging the full power of AWS Security Groups. Moreover, the Learn SaaS offering places all non-ELB infrastructure in a private subnet, completely removed from the Internet.

Access management

Customer administrative access

Customers can access their Learn SaaS offering instances using only the web interface over TLS. For security reasons, customers cannot access their instances using command-line or back-end access.

Blackboard administrative access

Application access

Only authorized Blackboard staff may access the Learn SaaS offering instances via the web interface over TLS.

Back-end access

A limited set of staff would have command-line and back-end access through the use of SSH keys. Access is only possible via SSH keys, a more secure method of access versus username/passwords. Keys are managed by a small group and can be revoked at any time.

Console access

Blackboard access to the Amazon Web Services web console requires multi-factor authentication (MFA.)

Disaster recovery

Database resiliency and backups

The Learn SaaS offering uses the PostgreSQL as the database. Blackboard's PostgreSQL database service provides enhanced availability and durability such that in the event of a database failure, the service would cut-over to an alternate availability zone. Our PostgreSQL database service also takes nightly backups.

Backups are stored in a medium that provides extremely high durability. The Learn SaaS offering does not use database encryption at rest at this time.

The Learn SaaS offering uses access control to protect the database. Access to the database is not available externally and limited to authorized Blackboard staff.

File system resiliency and backups

The Learn SaaS offering uses Amazon Simple Storage Service (S3) for backups of critical file system data. This data is backed up every 5 minutes. S3 offers "11 nines of data durability.

Backups are not encrypted at this time though Blackboard is evaluating this as part of its Learn SaaS offering roadmap. Backups are not accessible externally and access is limited to authorized Blackboard staff.

Security auditing

Customers have access to the Blackboard Learn application-level logs through the System Admin panel's integrated Kibana interface. Customers will be able to review security logs as described here: Audit and Accountability.

The Learn SaaS offering leverages powerful AWS auditing tools, including, S3, CloudWatch, CloudTrail, and TrustedAdvisor.

Built with security in mind, verified by a third party

Blackboard partnered with Amazon to ensure we built the Learn SaaS offering on a sound foundation of AWS best-practices from the start. Blackboard subsequently engaged a third party auditor to specifically focus on the Learn SaaS AWS deployment. These two approaches taken together ensure our highest confidence in the security of our SaaS offering.

DDoS countermeasures

Partnering with AWS for Learn SaaS offers many advantages of scale, efficiency, and security. One clear advantage area presents itself when leveraging the high availability infrastructure on which AWS is built. For example, The Learn SaaS offering benefits from the DDoS countermeasures provided natively by AWS.

Appendix 8: Professional Studies Advisory Board Guide

Introduction

The Department of Professional Studies at Arkansas Tech University and its partners recognize the value and importance of involving external stakeholders from appropriate fields (business, industry, government, education, and others) in the development, delivery, and promotion of its collaborative credit through a program Advisory Board. This group will provide a critical link between educators, students and practitioners in the field to achieve program quality and relevance.

The Advisory Board and departmental staff will work together to ensure the program delivers learning that is relevant to current business, industry, labor, and professional employment practices. The Professional Studies Advisory Board provides support and advice for academic programs, offers guidance on new programs, and identifies best practice standards. Board members will also serve as ambassadors to the programs by providing a connection to an ongoing exchange of information and ideas with members of a broader society.

Mission

The Professional Studies Advisory Board offers its experience, expertise and energy to promote engagement between PS alumni, PS students, potential students and community leaders by providing opportunities for networking and professional development.

PS Advisory Board Objectives

- Foster connections
- Access additional resources
- Generate ideas that enhance the Professional Studies experience
- Strengthen the broader Professional Studies community

Membership

Advisory Board members represent a cross section of business, industry, labor, and/or professions relevant to the academic programs of the Department of Professional Studies. Diversity of viewpoints is an important aspect of the board's function. Perspectives and experiences based on veteran status, gender, race, ethnicity, geographic location, age and other related qualities will be an important aspect in selecting members. Prospective Advisory Board members are identified by existing board or team members of the Department of Professional Studies. The suggested number of board members should be from 12-15 people. Advisory Board members will serve two-year terms with the possibility of renewal for additional terms based on interest, involvement, and at the discretion of the Department of Professional Studies. A dedicated board position will be established for one current student pursuing a degree in the Department of Professional Studies. In addition, current students and program faculty will be invited and encouraged to attend meetings.

The Advisory Board is non-voting and will not engage in decision-making related to program personnel, budget or internal policy development within the partner institutions.

Advisory Board Member Responsibilities and Guidelines

Responsibilities

1. Attend biannual board meetings and other events/functions (as requested). Review agenda and supporting materials prior to board meetings.
2. Be informed about the program(s), its students, curriculum, services/supports, and activities as well as inform others.
3. Share developments.
4. Provide support and advice to program(s), assist in the development of new programs, and identify best practice standards.
5. Serve as an ambassador and advocate to the program(s). Provide a connection to an ongoing exchange of information and ideas with practitioners in the field and other external contacts.
6. Realistically assess labor market demand for program graduates. Advise programs to ensure they produce graduates with the skills required to meet employment needs.
7. Assess the currency of curriculum and teaching practice. Work with program staff and other board members to ensure the program is delivering learning that is current and relevant to business, industry, labor, and professional employment practices.
8. Assist with program marketing and promotion.
9. Assist in identification of external funding and resources to support the students and program (e.g. scholarships, program materials, other resources).
10. Identify and present opportunities for students and/or host students for capstone projects or experiences.
11. Assist with placement of program graduates.
12. Assist in identification and recruitment of new board members.
13. Provide recommendations for topic presenters for Advisory Board meetings.

Personal Characteristics

- Ability to: listen, analyze, think clearly and creatively, work well with people individually and in a group, and provide constructive feedback.
- Willing to: prepare for and attend board meetings, ask questions, share ideas, opinions, and experiences, and open doors in the field.
- Possess: honesty, openness to differing views, a friendly, responsive, and patient approach, engagement skills, personal integrity, a developed sense of values, and concern for and interest in the program's development.

Officers and Duties

A new chair will be identified and appointed each calendar year from the Advisory Board membership. Members will be solicited each year for interest in serving in this role. A co- or vice-chair may also be identified. If there is not a board member who is able to serve as chair, the Department Head of Professional Studies may function as an interim chair until an Advisory Board member is identified. There are no other elected officers. The Advisory Board Chair facilitates effective functioning of meetings with support from the Department Head. Conducting meetings is the prime role of the Chair. He/she will also assist the Department Head in preparing meeting agendas and represents the Advisory Board at other meetings, as needed.

The Department Head will plan the meetings, ensure effective preparation, distribution, and archiving of the Advisory Board meeting minutes, and take follow-up action as required. The Department Head will also establish and maintain a viable pool of prospective new board members, maintain a current list of members, monitor terms, and manage memberships to include maintaining consistent and effective communication.

Advisory Board Meetings

Advisory Board meetings will be held on a bi-annual schedule (fall and spring) and will include decisions and recommendations regarding the ongoing growth, development, and enhancement of academic programs.

Typical agenda items could include introductions, general program updates (e.g. new faculty, enrollments, course development, program marketing, student experiences), campus reports, updates from the field and primary discussion/decision topic(s) to solicit and secure input from external members. As a benefit to all attendees, it is recommended meetings consist of some form of professional development to include, but not limited to, presentations from external subject/topic area experts, professional association representative, capstone site hosts, or others. It is also recommended students be invited to present on their capstone experiences.

Meeting location will be determined by the Department Head with input from board members. When necessary and available, distance technologies will be used to allow members to participate who are unable to attend in-person.

Advisory Board Member Compensation

There will be no formal compensation for Advisory Board members. The Department of Professional Studies will cover all site costs associated with Advisory Board meetings such as space rental, technology costs (conference call/video conferencing, equipment rental, technicians, and other), food services and parking. Costs other than mileage reimbursement to and from meetings related to travel are the responsibility of the board member. The Department of Professional Studies reimburses mileage expenses to those members physically attending a meeting.

1) Research Methodology

Project Challenge Leadership at Arkansas Tech University approached the Forum as they considered launching a master's-level program in leadership and management. Through quantitative data analytics, the Forum sought to assess the market viability of a leadership and management program.

EAB's market research function provides insights which guide strategic programmatic decisions at member institutions. The Forum combines qualitative and quantitative data to help administrators identify opportunities for new program development, assess job market trends, and align curriculum with employer and student demand.

EAB reports rely primarily on labor market data from the Burning Glass Labor/Insight™ tool (description below). Reports occasionally use data from the United States Census Bureau and United States Bureau of Labor Statistics data to explore occupation and job trends. Market research reports may also incorporate Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) data to assess student enrollment, demographics, and completion rates across competitor programs.

Methodology and Definitions

Methodology: Unless stated otherwise, this report includes data from online job postings from December 2016 to November 2017. The Forum identified the top titles, skills, employers, industries, and locations for the profiled region.

Definitions: "Region" and "regional data" refer to the following areas:

- Arkansas
- Louisiana
- Mississippi
- Missouri
- Oklahoma
- Tennessee
- Texas

Annual growth in job postings is measured in the change between July 2013 and June 2017 by six-month halves (i.e., H2 2014 is July 2014 to December 2014).

Burning Glass Labor/Insight™

EAB's Partner for Real-Time Labor Market Data

This report includes data made available through EAB's partnership with Burning Glass Technologies, a Boston-based leader in human capital data analytics. Burning Glass Technologies specializes in the use of web spidering technology to mine more than 80 million online job postings and analyze real-time employer demand. Under this partnership, EAB may use Burning Glass's proprietary Labor/Insight™ tool to answer member questions about employer demand for educational requirements, job titles, and competencies over time, as well as by geography. The tool considers job postings "unspecified" for a skill, industry, employer, geography, certification, or educational requirement when the job posting did not advertise for one of these particular job characteristics. Unspecified postings represent null values and should be excluded from the total number (n value) of job postings analyzed in the query. A more complete description of the tool is available at <http://www.burning-glass.com/products/laborinsight-market-analysis/>.

For more information about the Labor/Insight™ tool, please contact Betsy Denious, Director of Business Development Learning & Policy at bdenious@burning-glass.com or 301-525-6596.

2) Executive Overview

Regional and statewide trends in employer demand indicate limited potential for program development. While both statewide and regional demand for leadership and management professionals increased slightly between H2 2013 and H1 2017, demand declined steadily in both areas between H2 2015 and H1 2017. Regional and statewide employer demand for master's-level professionals with relevant skills increased four percent and one percent respectively between H2 2013 and H1 2017. However, regional demand declined 26 percent between H2 2015 and H1 2017 (i.e., from 40,181 postings to 29,632 postings) and statewide demand declined 40 percent in this period (i.e., from 2,090 postings to 1,256 postings). This steady decline in employer demand in recent years indicates limited possibility for program development.

Market a new master's-level leadership and management program to professionals in health care and finance to attract prospective students. Market a master's-level leadership and management program to professionals who seek to enter or advance in finance positions to attract prospective students. Finance positions (e.g., 'accountant') compose seven of the top 20 titles for master's-level professionals with relevant skills, while financial skills (e.g., 'accounting') account for three of the top 20 employer-sought skills. Similarly, health care employers (e.g., Hospital Corporation of America) account for five of the top 20 employers for professionals with relevant skills, and health care industries (e.g., 'offices of physicians') compose three of the top 20 regional industries. Professionals in the health care field can enroll in a new leadership and management program to gain or hone in-demand skills.

Offer some or all components of a new master's-level program online to compete with profiled programs and provide flexibility. Students in all profiled programs can complete some or all of the required courses online. An online or hybrid delivery system for a new master's-level program at Arkansas Tech University can compete with profiled programs. Additionally, an online or hybrid program can provide a high level of flexibility for students who must balance other obligations (e.g., work, family commitments) with school work.

3) Employer Demand

Demand Over Time

Between H2 2013 and H1 2017, regional employer demand increased four percent (i.e., from 28,525 postings to 29,632 postings). During this same period, statewide demand grew one percent (i.e., from 1,239 postings to 1,256 postings). Despite this overall increase in statewide and regional demand between H2 2013 and H1 2017, the steady decline in demand after H2 2015, indicates limited potential for program development. Regional and statewide employer demand peaked in H2 2015, with 40,181 postings and 2,090 postings respectively. Statewide demand declined steadily from its peak of 2,090 postings in H2 2015 to 1,256 postings in H1 2017 (i.e., 40 percent). Regional demand also declined steadily from its peak of 40,181 postings in H2 2015 to 29,632 postings in H1 2017 (i.e., 26 percent).

However, the BLS projects an above average increase in employment in multiple relevant occupations nationally between 2016 and 2026, including "medical and health services managers" and "marketing managers" (i.e., 20 percent and 10 percent growth respectively).

The BLS projects an average growth in employment across all occupations of seven and a half percent between 2016 and 2026.

Historical Employer Demand for Master's-Level Leadership and Management Professionals

July 2013-June 2017, Regional Data*

2) Burning Glass LaborInsight™

Top Titles and In-Demand Skills

The inclusion of courses with a focus on finance can confer employer-sought skills and prepare students for in-demand positions. Professionals who seek skills necessary to advance in their careers, including financial management skills (e.g., 'budgeting') can enroll in a new leadership and management master's-level degree at Arkansas Tech University. Financial positions (e.g., 'tax manager') compose seven of the top 20 positions for master's-level leadership and management professionals. Additionally, finance skills (e.g., 'accounting') account for three of the top 20 skills for professionals with relevant skills.

Additionally, highlight the applicability of management skills to positions in a variety of fields to attract students with diverse professional backgrounds and goals. The top titles for professionals with relevant skills includes positions in health care (e.g., 'nurse manager'), finance (e.g., 'tax manager'), and marketing (e.g., 'marketing manager'). As expected, management skills (e.g., 'supervisory skills') account for 10 of the top 20 skills for master's-level leadership and management professionals. Similarly, management positions (e.g., 'tax manager') compose 16 of the top 20 positions of master's-level management and leadership positions.

Top Locations

Target marketing efforts to prospective students in metropolitan areas in Texas with high employer demand for master's-level leadership and management professionals. Metropolitan statistical areas (MSAs) in Texas account for the three regional MSAs with the most employer demand for management and leadership professionals. Employers in the Dallas-Fort Worth-Arlington, TX; Houston-The Woodlands-Sugar Land, TX; and Austin-Round Rock, TX MSAs post 13,882, 8,201, and 4,680 relevant job openings respectively. Employers in these top three MSAs post 45 percent of regional job openings for master's-level leadership and management professionals.

Additionally, conduct secondary marketing efforts in the Little Rock and Fayetteville, AR areas to attract students proximate to the University. Arkansas Tech University's statewide program recognition and the relative proximity of students in these MSAs to the University indicate marketing efforts in these areas may prove effective. Only one of the 10 regional MSAs with the most job openings for master's-level leadership and management professionals sits in Arkansas (i.e., the Memphis, TN-MS-AR MSA). However, both the Little Rock-North Little Rock-Conway, AR MSA, and the Fayetteville-Springdale-Rogers, AR-MO MSA rank among the 20 MSAs with the most demand for master's-level leadership and management professionals. Employers in the Little Rock-North Little Rock-Conway, AR MSA, and the Fayetteville-Springdale-Rogers, AR-MO MSA post 941 and 860 postings for master's-level leadership and management professionals respectively.

Top Employers and Industries

Professionals who seek to move into or advance in professions in the health care field can enroll in a new master's-level leadership and management program at Arkansas Tech University to gain in-demand skills. Health care industries account for three of the 20 regional industries with the highest demand for professionals with relevant skills. In the profiled region, employers in the 'general medical and surgical hospitals' industry post more job openings for professionals with relevant skills than employers in other industries (i.e., 5,031 postings). Additionally, employers in the 'pharmaceutical and medicine manufacturing' and 'offices of physicians' industries post 685 relevant openings and 526 relevant openings respectively. Health care employers (e.g., Hospital Corporation of America) compose five of the top 20 employers for professionals with relevant skills.

Additionally, market a new master's-level leadership and management program to professionals in finance to attract prospective students. Finance companies (e.g., JP Morgan Chase) compose two of the top 20 employers for professionals with relevant skills and financial industries (e.g., 'depository credit intermediation') account for four of the top 20 industries. Other top regional employers for master's-level leadership and management professionals include consulting companies (e.g., Accenture) and technology companies (e.g., Dell).

4) Competitor Programs

Program Structure

Students can complete all or part of profiled programs online. A fully or partly online delivery can serve working professionals who must balance academic work with other obligations (e.g., family commitments, work). Students in the profiled program at the University of La Verne can complete the program online or can attend classes in multiple locations across California which provides a high level of flexibility for students located across the state. Of profiled programs, only the University of La Verne and Duquesne University advertise a fully online delivery system. A fully online curriculum can distinguish a program at Arkansas Tech University from profiled regional competitors. In addition to the profiled programs, multiple institutions in the profiled region offer master's-level leadership and management programs within a specific discipline (e.g., MS in School Leadership, Management, and Administration at the University of Central Arkansas). Institutions in the profiled region also offer relevant certificate-level programs (e.g., Leadership Graduate Certificate at Missouri State University).

Characteristics of Profiled Master's-Level Leadership and Management Programs

Profiled Institutions

Institution	Program	Modality	Time to Completion	Number of Credits
Texas A&amp;M University-Commerce	MS in Management	Hybrid	Not advertised	30-39
Truman State University	MA in Leadership	Hybrid	Not advertised	39
University of Texas-Dallas	MS in Management Science	Hybrid	Not advertised	36
University of La Verne	MS in Leadership and Management	Online, on-campus,	Not advertised	33-36
Duquesne University	MS in Leadership	Online	Less than 2 years	30

Curriculum

Allow students to complete electives or concentrations so they can customize the program to fit their goals and interests. Profiled programs allow students to complete electives or pursue concentrations. Students in the profiled program at Truman State University pursue a specialty area (e.g., public and not for profit management) that allows them to customize the program to fit their goals and interests. The program structure at Texas A&M University-Commerce allows students to choose a minor in entrepreneurship or corporate management, or to pursue a general option which includes courses on a variety of issues (e.g., leadership, managing groups). Similarly, students in the profiled program at the University of Texas-Dallas can choose between 15 concentrations (e.g., accounting, real estate) and students at the University of La Verne can pursue one of three concentrations (e.g., human resources).

Common Curriculum Topics of Profiled Master’s-Level Programs

Marketing

Highlight the ability of a new master’s-level program in leadership and management at Arkansas Tech University to serve working professionals to attract prospective students. Include statements that emphasize the flexibility of a new program and its ability to effectively serve working professionals to align with marketing messages of profiled programs. The website of the profiled program at the University of La Verne emphasizes the flexibility of the program for working professionals. Truman State University’s website states the program serves “a diverse group of traditional and nontraditional students with a variety of academic and professional backgrounds.” The University of Texas program website includes a student profile section that provides information on average age, work experience, and the percent of the student population composed by women and minorities.

Potential Marketing Strategies for a Master's-Level Leadership and Management Program

EAB research

Include testimonials from graduates and information about employment outcomes to attract students.

Include marketing personnel in program development to ensure timely and effective marketing efforts.

Create incentives for current and former students to refer new students.

Focus marketing messages on outcomes to attract working professionals focused on return on investment.

Highlight the flexibility of a new program and its ability to serve working professionals to compete with profiled programs.

Include information on local employer demand in marketing materials to appeal to underemployed prospective students.

5. PROGRAM SUMMARY

Overview

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (GC-LLOD) (CIP 30.9999) provides graduate level instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, budgeting, ethics, and evidence based decision making. Graduates of the program prepare for leadership roles in diverse professional settings. This fully online graduate certificate consists of the first 18-credit hours of core coursework in the Master of Arts in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (MA-LLOD).

This graduate certificate increases stackability options at the institution; students will be able to earn an undergraduate certificate in Professional Leadership, a baccalaureate in Organizational Leadership, and the MA-LLOD. According to the Educational Advisory Board (EAB), there is a high-demand for online master's degrees and graduate study. The 18-credit hour certificate expands Arkansas Tech University's offering of online graduate programs. This graduate certificate program, as well as the MA-LLOD, supports Arkansas Tech University's strategic plan, goal 2.6, by increasing credentialing opportunities and stackability.

Faculty Resources

The program will not require additional full-time faculty in Years 1-3. If the limited use of adjunct faculty is required due program growth, the proposed adjunct faculty must first be granted graduate faculty status by the Graduate Council of Arkansas Tech University. The cost per adjunct faculty member per three-credit course is $2,100 plus benefits.

Library Resources

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technology Center at Arkansas Tech University provides extensive online access to students for the relevant peer-reviewed academic journals necessary to support the proposed program.

Facilities and Equipment

No new or renovated facilities (or associated costs) are required for the proposed program.

Purpose of the Program

The GC-LLOD program, with a core focus on organizational leadership and organizational development, allows students to develop effective leadership at all organizational levels, manage teams, make strategic decisions, design and evaluate organizational training and development, and communicate effectively in diverse professional settings. The proposed graduate certificate allows graduates to impact an organization's culture, productivity, and team strength.

The GC-LLOD facilitates the development of T-shaped professionals, individuals who possess a number of soft skills that allow organizational collaboration at the "T-top") combined with a knowledge of skills, process, product or body of work (the "T-stem"). A professional with an undergraduate degree in a STEM field may desire to increase his or her universal competencies, and the GC-LLOD provides such an opportunity at the graduate level.

Source: Educational Advisory Board (EAB)

According to the Educational Advisory Board (EAB, 2014), an individual's "T-shape" is developed over the course of one's education and career; however, "students who possess a mix of their "T-top" and "T-stem" skills upon graduation face the most promising short- and long-term employment prospects." Employers in the 21st century seek educated employees who effectively integrate human interaction and problem-solving skills as well as content knowledge.

The most effective educators are capable of reaching beyond the classroom to reach their students. Teaching methods for future leaders must be innovative, hands-on, and pragmatic. As we learned from Zemke and Zemke (1995), adult learning and training should be problem-centered, exercises and cases should be experiential, should promote integration with feedback and recognition being a focal point of the methodology.

Design thinking for educators embodies these tenants within their four processes:

1. Lead with empathy
2. Challenge assumptions
3. Make experiments happen
4. Share your process

Lead with empathy – Leaders and trainers must effectively “put themselves in the student’s shoes.” As suggested by Wise (2006), educators must “immerse yourself in how others experience your program.” By doing so, the trainer gets a practical sense of what is necessary for the course.

Challenge assumptions – Providing materials that challenge the learners to question their assumptions and epistemology. This promotes critical thinking.

Make experiments happen – Experiments should be grounded in real-life and relatable exercises and cases. Learning and training for adults is best when the participants feel invested in the experiments.

Share your process – Feedback and recognition are a necessary process in learning and training. Provide positive feedback with recommendations. Educators should share their own experiences both positive and negative. Throughout the previous processes, educators should also give the learners the opportunity to share their experiences with the class.

This process is continuous.

As an andragogical approach, the MA-LLOD faculty at Arkansas Tech University intend to utilize their individual and collective academic preparation in organizational development, adult learning theory, training and development, program assessment and evaluation, diversity and inclusion, and evidence-based research to design and deliver a curriculum designed for the adult learner, with the integration of team-based learning and design-thinking principles. The educational benefits of team-based learning including understanding the course content, applying the course content to problem-solving and decision-making, developing skills for effectively working on a team, and valuing the team approach to solving complex intellectual tasks. In its most simple form, design-thinking is problem-solving with an empathic paradigm: understanding a stakeholder's problem before creating solutions. Design thinking guides individuals to lead teams and organizations through purpose.

List degree programs or emphasis areas currently offered at the institution that support the proposed program.

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (GC-LLOD) prepares individuals to lead change, motivate groups, create solutions, communicate effectively, resolve organizational challenges through critical, strategic and creative thinking. As such, the GC-LLOD is supported by any degree or career-field with a need to work with individuals and teams within an organization in directing change and development.

6. NEED FOR THE PROGRAM

The Department of Professional Studies utilized the Educational Advisory Board's (EAB) research component to conduct an analysis of employer demand and competitor programs for the proposed graduate certificate and graduate degree in leadership, learning, and organizational development. The market analysis region included Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas. EAB reports rely primarily on labor market data from the Burning Glass Labor/Insight tools, as well as the United States Census Bureau, the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS).

- Arkansas Market: Arkansas Tech University's statewide program recognition and the relative proximity of the institution to the Little Rock, AR MSA and the Northwest Arkansas MSA (1,500 plus employment openings (both rank among the 20 MSAs with the most program demand).
- Regional Markets: Target marketing efforts to prospective students in metropolitan areas in Texas with high employer demand. Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) in Texas account for three regional MSAs with the most demand (25,000 plus employment openings): Dallas-Fort Worth-Arlington, TX; Houston-The Woodlands-Sugar Land, TX; and Austin-Round Rock, TX. One of the top 10 regional MSAs with the most relevant employment opening is the Memphis-TN-MS-AR MSA.
- Program Structure: A fully or partly online deliver can serve working professionals who must balance academic work with other obligations. A fully online curriculum can distinguish a program at Arkansas Tech University from profiled regional competitors.
- Curriculum: Allow students to complete electives or concentrations so they can customize the program to fit their goals and interests.

- Marketing: Highlight the ability of a master's-level program to serve working professionals to attract prospective students.
- Demand Over Time: Regional and statewide demand for a master's-level program increase slightly between 2013-2017; however, the Bureau of Labor Statistics projects an above average increase in employment in multiple relevant occupations nationally between 2016 and 2026. Additionally, the program should be marketed to professionals in health care to attract prospective students. Health care employers account for five of the top 20 employers with relevant skills, and professionals in the health care field can enroll to gain or hone in-demand skills.
- Include courses on finance to align with employer demand: Professionals who seek skills necessary to advance their careers, including financial management skills (e.g., budgeting).

Provide names and types of organizations/businesses surveyed.

The Needs Assessment Survey for the GC-LLOD and the MA-LLOD program was electronically delivered via QuestionPro to 328 employers. The comprehensive list of organizations survey may be found in Appendix 1. The response rate from the targeted employer set was low (2%, N=6). However, two employers indicated 10 or more organizational positions align with the MA-LLOD program. Three of six employers indicated they would give hiring preference to applicants with an MA-LLOD as proposed. The Survey Report is located in Appendix Appendix 1.

Describe what need the proposed program will address and how the institution became aware of this need.

In addition to mid-career professionals, a primary regional target population for the GC-LLOD and the MA-LLOD are Training and Development Supervisors (Bureau of Labor Statistics 13-1511) and Training and Development Managers (Bureau of Labor Statistics 11-3131). Training and Development Managers primarily plan, direct, or coordinate the training and development activities and staff of an organization. Representative positions include, but are not limited to:

- Development Manager
- Education and Development Manager
- Education Director
- Learning and Development Director
- Learning Manager
- Staff Training and Development Manager
- Training and Development Director

The tasks expected of Training and Development Managers include, but are not limited to,

- Analyze training needs to develop new training programs or modify and improve existing programs.

- Evaluate instructor performance and the effectiveness of training programs, providing recommendations for improvement.
- Plan, develop, and provide training and staff development programs, using knowledge of the effectiveness of methods such as classroom training, demonstrations, on-the-job training, meetings, conferences, and workshops.
- Prepare training budget for department or organization.
- Confer with management and conduct surveys to identify training needs based on projected production processes, changes, and other factors.
- Develop and organize training manuals, multimedia visual aids, and other educational materials.
- Develop testing and evaluation procedures.
- Train instructors and supervisors in techniques and skills for training and dealing with employees.
- Conduct orientation sessions and arrange on-the-job training for new hires.
- Conduct or arrange for ongoing technical training and personal development classes for staff members.
- Review and evaluate training and apprenticeship programs for compliance with government standards.

Appendix 2 provides detailed information regarding the knowledge, skills, and abilities expected of a Training and Development Manager.

19% of Training and Development Manager positions require a Master's degree, and an additional 15% of positions require a post-baccalaureate certificate (O*Net, 2018).

Data extracted from the Bureau of Labor Statistics (www.bls.gov, 2018) indicates approximately 260 Training and Development Managers (Standard Occupational Classification Code 113131) exist in Arkansas, with an additional 4,130 positions located in the six states geographically contiguous to Arkansas.

Arkansas	260	100630
Louisiana	350	78580
Mississippi	160	93520
Missouri	440	110680
Oklahoma	370	87910
Tennessee	1170	94130
Texas	1640	133060

The Department of Professional Studies Advisory Board meets on the Arkansas Tech University campus each May and December. As its mission, The Professional Studies Advisory Board offers its experience, expertise and energy to promote engagement between PS alumni, PS students, potential students and community leaders by providing opportunities for networking and professional development.

PS Advisory Board Objectives

- Foster connections
- Access additional resources
- Generate ideas that enhance the Professional Studies experience
- Strengthen the broader Professional Studies community

Advisory Board members represent a cross section of business, industry, labor, and professions relevant to the academic programs of the Department of Professional Studies. Diversity of viewpoints is an important aspect of the board's function. Perspectives and experiences based on veteran status, gender, race, ethnicity, geographic location, age and other related qualities will be an important aspect in selecting members. Prospective Advisory Board members are identified by the existing board or team members of the Department of Professional Studies. The suggested number of board members should be from 12-15 people. Advisory Board members will serve two-year terms with the possibility of renewal for additional terms based on interest, involvement, and at the discretion of the Department of Professional Studies. A dedicated board position will be established for one current student pursuing a degree in the Department of Professional Studies. Also, current students and program faculty will be invited and encouraged to attend meetings.

The Advisory Board is non-voting and will not engage in decision-making related to program personnel, budget or internal policy development within the partner institutions. Upon initiation of the GC-LLOD and MA-LLOD programs, the Professional Studies Advisory Board will expand its membership to include additional voices related to training and development professionals and expertise related to the interdisciplinary coursework.

The Professional Studies Advisory Board Guide is located in Appendix 8.

Indicate the projected number of program enrollments for Years 1 - 3.

The figures below indicate the projected enrollment for the MA-LLOD program. Students who enroll in the MA-LLOD program of study will be encouraged to pursue the GC-LLOD concurrently. It is feasible the enrollment for the GC-LLOD will exceed MA-LLOD in Year 1-3.

Projected Annual Enrollment

2019 – 2020 15 students

2020 – 2021 30 students

2021 - 2022 45 students

Indicate the projected number of program graduates in 3-5 years.

It is estimated the average student in the GC-LLOD program will be a part-time graduate student, as the program facilitates the needs of individuals currently in the workplace or who are mid-career. It is anticipated the typical GC-LLOD will complete 6-12 graduate hours each year.

As a conservative estimate, it is projected 35 students will earn the GC-LLOD by AY 2024.

Give the total number of semester credit hours required for the program, including prerequisite courses.

The GC-LLOD requires completion of 18 graduate-level credit hours. Prerequisite courses are not required of entering students.

LLOD 5003 Foundations of Organizational Leadership and Learning

This course presents a broad survey of leadership theory and competencies in the private and nonprofit sector. Topics include the examination of leadership models, nonprofit and community leadership, workplace learning, supervision, organizational development and change, globalization and diversity, and organizational leadership competencies. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5013 Adult Learning, Training, and Development

This course is designed to introduce students to training and development in organizations. Students will learn about practical approaches and models for employee training, coaching, mentoring, and performance improvement in a workplace setting. Topics include strategic training, training design, training methods, evaluation, diversity training, and ethics. Participation in the course requires access to a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5023 Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility

Ethics and social responsibility often coincide. In this course, students will examine the real-life ethical and social issues that organizational leaders constantly face. Using theoretical frameworks, students will assess current issues and provide logical recommendations for issues that may arise. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 5033 Organizational Diversity and Inclusion

Organizational Diversity and Inclusion will explore and examine the dynamics of diversity and inclusion practices in an organizational environment. Students will become familiar with the theoretical and practical implications of diversity and inclusion and how to include it in their leadership skills. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6003 Leading Organizational Change

This course is designed to provide students with both the conceptual framework and the practical skills needed to lead effective organizational change. Over time everything changes, even organizations. Good leaders do not wait for change; they encourage and facilitate it. In this course, students will concentrate on becoming effective change agents. Students will explore how to assess organizations for change, become familiar with behavioral theories for individual and organizational change, and implement the process for organizational change. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6013 Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution

Conflicts are an unavoidable part of life; whether at home, the classroom, or the office. The Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution course is designed to prepare organizational leaders with the theoretical and practical knowledge to work through difficult conversations and become problem-solvers and change agents for their workplace.

Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

LLOD 6023 Evidence-Based Decision Making

This course presents students with evidence-based frameworks used in leadership practices to make sound decisions. Topics including defining objectives, collecting relevant, reliable information, generating feasible options, making the decision, implementation, and evaluating results, as well as forward-based decision making and intuition. Participation in the course requires access to a computer, the internet, and a webcam or other video capture technology.

Identify required general education courses, core courses and major courses.

The required core courses for the MA-LLOD (18 hours) are:

LLOD 5003*	Foundations of Organizational Leadership and Learning
LLOD 5013*	Adult Learning, Training, and Development
LLOD 5023*	Leadership Ethics and Social Responsibility
LLOD 5033*	Organizational Diversity and Inclusion
LLOD 6003*	Leading Organizational Change
LLOD 6013*	Strategic Communication and Conflict Resolution OR
LLOD 6023*	Evidence Based Decision Making

Indicate the number of contact hours for internship/clinical hours.

Not applicable.

State the program admission requirements.

The GC-LLOD admission requirements, as proposed for the institutional academic catalog are as follows.

Graduate College Application Process

- Applicants must pay a $40.00 nonrefundable application fee directly to the Graduate College.
- Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college verified by an official transcript.
- Applicants must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 on the last 30 hours of undergraduate work or hold a graduate degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Applicants must request a complete undergraduate official transcript from their bachelor's awarding institution sent directly to the Graduate College.

After students apply to the Graduate College, you will then apply to the Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development program for an admissions decision. In addition to the Graduate College requirements (listed above),

- Applicants must submit a letter of intent, which is at least 1500 words and addresses: career goals, interest in obtaining a graduate degree, interest in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development, and research interests.
- Applicants must submit a resume or vita.

ATU Graduate College, 1507 North Boulder Avenue, Tomlinson 113, Russellville, AR 72801.

Unconditional Admission

Students are eligible to apply for unconditional admission to the Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (LLOD) if they meet all of the following requirements. Additionally, all application credentials are examined by the Graduate Program Director and the Graduate Program Admission Committee when determining admission status.

Applicants must meet the admission requirements for the Graduate College. Minimum undergraduate cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or 3.0 on last 30 hours. Statement of intent which addresses career goals, interests in leadership, learning, and organizational development, and research interests. Resume or vitae. Approval from the Program Director.

Applicants who fail to meet all requirements specified for unconditional admission may be admitted conditionally to enroll for a maximum of twelve semester hours if they meet the minimum requirements for graduate admission and have the approval of the program director. If a student was admitted conditionally based on grade point average, the condition will be met if upon completion of twelve semester hours a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or better is achieved.

Describe specified learning outcomes and course examination procedures.

GC – Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development
PROGRAM OUTCOMES

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development focuses on advanced topics in leadership theory, adult learning theory, leadership skills, and soft skills applied in business, government, non-profit, and educational settings. The 24 credit hour core includes instruction in organizational planning, dynamics of leadership, financial literacy, team building, conflict resolution and mediation, training and development, adult learning theory, communication, and other leadership skills.

Program Outcomes

1. Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory – Students will review, analyze, and apply prominent theories in leadership, leadership ethics, followership, adult learning, and development to address organizational issues in diverse settings.

2. Strategic Verbal, Written, Interpersonal, and Technological Communication – Students will develop strategic verbal, written, interpersonal, and technological communication functions for leadership, training, and motivation.
3. Systems Thinking, Group Dynamics and Teamwork – Students will identify and implement effective, ethical solutions for complex organizational systems through group dynamics and team building.
4. Cultural Competency, Global Understanding, and Social Responsibility – Students will articulate the impact of social and cultural diversity in organizations.
5. Evaluation, Assessment, Analysis, and Critical Thinking – Students will demonstrate ethical, evidenced based decision-making practices based on exploration of issues, collection of evidence, data analysis, critique of sources, and interpretation of results.
6. Awareness of Self and Others – Students will develop a sense of self and others through exploration, identification, and articulation of social and cultural norms that form ethics, identity, values, beliefs, and motivations.
7. Financial Literacy – Demonstrate competency in basic concepts of budgeting, financial strategy, and financial ethics in a professional setting.

Program Outcomes – Learning Objectives

Program Outcome 1 (PO1): Application of Leadership, Adult Learning, and Organizational Development Theory

- Students will review, analyze, and apply prominent theories in leadership, leadership ethics, followership, adult learning, and development to address organizational issues in diverse settings.
  - demonstrates mastery of basic principles of leadership theory, adult learning theory, and development theory
  - identifies evidence-based practices in leadership, followership, and leadership ethics
  - evaluates the application of theory in various organizational and cultural contexts

Include a copy of the course evaluation to be completed by the student.

The evaluation instrument for both a course and the respective instructor may be found in Appendix 3.

Provide institutional curriculum committee review/approval date for proposed program.

The Arkansas Tech University Graduate Council reviewed the proposed program on August 21, 2018.

8. FACULTY

List the names and credentials of all faculty teaching courses for the proposed program. Include college/university awarding degree; degree level; degree field; subject area of courses faculty currently teaching and/or will teach. (For associate degrees and above: A minimum of one full-time faculty member with appropriate academic credentials is required.)

Dr. Jeremy Schwehm, Associate Professor of Professional Studies

University of Georgia, Ph.D, Adult Education
Northwestern State University, M.A., Adult Education
Louisiana State University, B.A., Psychology

Dr. Tennille Lasker-Scott, Assistant Professor of Professional Studies

University of Georgia, Ph.D., Adult Education
University of Georgia, Graduate Certificate, Interdisciplinary Qualitative Research
University of Arkansas – Little Rock, M.E., Adult Education
University of Arkansas –Little Rock, BBA, Human Resources Management Emphasis

Indicate the lead faculty member or program coordinator for the proposed program.

Dr. Jeremy Schwehm, Associate Professor of Professional Studies

Total number of faculty required for program implementation, including the number of existing faculty and number of new faculty. For new faculty, provide the expected credentials/experience and expected hire date.

Total number of faculty required for program implementation: 2

Total number of existing faculty: 2

Number of new faculty: 0

For proposed graduate programs: Provide the curriculum vita for faculty teaching in the program, and the expected credentials for new faculty and expected hire date. Also, provide the projected startup costs for faculty research laboratories, and the projected number of and costs for graduate teaching and research assistants.

Appendix 4: Curriculum vita for faculty

Projected Research Laboratory Start-Up: Not applicable

9. DESCRIPTION OF RESOURCES

Current library resources in the field.

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technical Center maintains active virtual subscriptions to an extensive collection of peer-reviewed scholarly journals to support the GC-LLOD. Historically, the Professional Studies faculty collaborates with the research librarians to develop a subject-matter specific research guide for selected courses. Such a research guide will be developed for each Department of Professional Studies course within the GC-LLOD.

Representative journal holdings include:

Advancing Women in Leadership

Development and Learning in Organizations

E-journal of Organizational Learning and Leadership

European Journal of Training and Development

International Journal of Leadership in Public Services

International Journal of Training and Development

International Journal of Organizational Theory and Development

International Journal of Learner Diversity and Identities

Journal of Applied Christian Leadership

Journal of Cultural Diversity

Journal of Diversity Management

Journal of Leadership, Accountability and Ethics

Journal of Leadership Education

Journal of Leadership Studies

Journal of Leadership and Organizational Studies

New instructional resources required, including costs and acquisition plan.

Not applicable.

10. NEW PROGRAM COSTS – Expenditures for the first 3 years.New administrative costs (number and position titles of new administrators).

The program does not require any new administrative costs.

Number of new faculty (full-time and part-time) and costs.

The program will not require additional full-time faculty in Years 1-3. If the limited use of adjunct faculty is required due program growth, the proposed adjunct faculty must first be granted graduate faculty status by the Graduate Council of Arkansas Tech University. The cost per adjunct faculty member per three-credit course is $2,100 plus benefits.

New library resources and costs.

The Ross Pendergraft Library and Technology Center at Arkansas Tech University provides extensive online access to students for the relevant peer-reviewed academic journals necessary to support the proposed program.

New/renovated facilities and costs.

There are no new or renovated facilities (or associated costs) required for the proposed program.

New instructional equipment and costs.

No new instructional equipment (or associated costs) required for the proposed program.

Distance delivery costs (if applicable).

Arkansas Tech University delivers multiple degree programs via distance delivery. The necessary distance delivery infrastructure, as well as the required ancillary supports, are in place to support the proposed program and expected enrollment in the first three years.

11. SOURCE OF PROGRAM FUNDING – Income for the first 3 years of program operation.If there will be a reallocation of funds, indicate from which department, program, etc.

A reallocation of funds is not required or required to support the first three years of the proposed GC-LLOD program. With conservative expectations of enrollment in Years 1-3, the identified members of the Professional Studies faculty will dedicate one course per term in his or her existing 4/4 instructional load.

Provide the projected annual student enrollment, the amount of student tuition per credit hour, and the total cost of the program that includes tuition and fees.

Projected Annual Enrollment

2019 – 2020 15 students

2020 – 2021 30 students

2021 - 2022 45 students

Tuition per credit hour (2018 – 2019): $284.00 per credit hour

Total program costs (based on 2018 – 2019 tuition and fees):

$6,484.50 (18 credit-hour program)

Indicate the projected annual state general revenues for the proposed program (Provide the amount of state general revenue per student).

Arkansas Tech University currently receives $3,753 per student FTE from the State of Arkansas.

15 student state general revenue: $52,295

30 student state general revenue: $112,590

45 student state general revenue: $164,885

Other (grants [list grant source & amount of grant], employers, special tuition rates, mandatory technology fees, program specific fees, etc.).

Technology Operations Fee $16.50 per Credit Hour

Online/ Mixed Technology Fee $10.00 per Credit Hour

12. ORGANIZATIONAL CHART REFLECTING NEW PROGRAM

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning and Organizational Development will be housed in the Department of Professional Studies, College of eTech.

The current organizational chart and the proposed organizational chart may be found in Appendix 5.

13. SPECIALIZED REQUIREMENTS

Specialized accreditation is not applicable to this program.

14. BOARD OF TRUSTEES APPROVAL

Provide the date that the Board approved (or will consider) the proposed program.

August 23, 2018

Provide a copy of the Board meeting agenda that lists the proposed program, and written documentation of program/unit approval by the Board of Trustees prior to the Coordinating Board meeting that the proposal will be considered.

15. SIMILAR PROGRAMS

Provide a copy of the e-mail notification to other institutions in the state notifying them of the proposed program. Please inform institutions not to send the response to "Reply All". If you receive an objection/concern(s) from an institution, reply to the institution and copy ADHE on the email. That institution should respond and copy ADHE. If the objection/concern(s) cannot be resolved, ADHE may intervene.

The following email notification was distributed by Arkansas Tech University on June 25, 2018.

"This email is a notification that Arkansas Tech University is proposing a Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (GC-LLOD). Arkansas Tech University is interested in receiving comments or feedback about the programs from you. ADHE requested through e-mail communications that you not "Reply All" when sending your response about the program. If you have an objection, concern, or comment, please reply to me and copy ADHE.

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership, Learning, and Organizational Development (CIP 30.9999) provides instruction in leadership skills, adult learning theory, training and development, strategic communication and conflict management, diversity and inclusion, ethics, social responsibility and evidence-based decision making. Graduates of the program are prepared for leadership roles and higher levels of organizational responsibility in diverse professional settings. Students complete 12 credit hours of required LLOD core courses, and six credit hours of 6000-level LLOD course options, allowing customization to meet professional goals and interests. The GC-LLOD provides graduates with core skills and knowledge to effectively lead organizations in a changing environment. The certificate's learning outcomes transfer to any organization or career-field."

18. ACADEMIC PROGRAM REVIEW

Provide scheduled program review date (within 10 years of program implementation date).

Department of Professional Studies Annual Internal Assessment: Initiate Spring 2020

Department of Professional Studies Internal Self-Study: 2021-2022 End of Year 3

External Program Review: 2022-2023 End of Year 4

20. INSTRUCTION BY DISTANCE TECHNOLOGY

Summarize institutional policies on the establishment, organization, funding and management of distance courses/degrees.

Following approval by Academic Affairs and the Dean, adequate time is made available to the faculty member(s) to develop/revise current and new distance courses. Under contract terms, the employee is paid for the development of the course. The University provides all resources for the work, and the work is carried out as a part of the faculty member's assigned time. When the University contracts with an employee for the development of a specific online course, it is considered a work made for hire for two years from the date the course is first offered.

Describe the internal organizational structure that coordinates (development, technical support, oversight) distances courses/degrees.

Each college decides which existing/new degree(s) they would like offered online and they are tasked with following steps for approval (e.g., meeting accreditation standards, acquiring consent from the University, seeking approval from the Department of Higher Education, etc.). Development and oversight of eTech courses are handled by the College of eTech while Web courses are managed within departments. Faculty work with Instructional Designers and a Multimedia Coordinator to create quality online courses that meet the goals and objectives of eTech's revised Blackboard Rubric. Technical support is facilitated by the Office of Information Systems (Support Services for Tier I, Technology Learning Resources for Tier II & III).

Technical support for ATU's e-learning platform is provided by the Office of Information System (OIS), which has a 24/7 Campus Support Center to field technical calls/visits and provide Tier I support. Tier II and III support of the LMS is provided by a Course Management Systems team within OIS.

The Office of Information Systems strives to maintain a sound technical structure in which to nurture scholastic development. We maintain a high level of integrity and professionalism across all areas of our operation: Networked Systems, Administrative Systems, and Support Services.

Networking Resources

- The core network backbone is 20Gbit fiber with multiple buildings connected at 10Gbit, and all others are connected with at least 1Gbit links.
- Arkansas Tech is also connected to the Arkansas Research and Education Optical Network (ARE-ON) with redundant 10Gbit links.
- All residence halls and most academic buildings have 5ghz standard wireless access available.

- Arkansas Tech provides each student with 50GB of email storage space and 1TB of cloud storage in OneDrive through Office 365.
- In addition, the students are provided with 5GB of network storage space that is for their personal use.

Computer Labs

- Our campus maintains 41 computer labs housed across almost every academic building. These labs collectively contain over 1,108 computer work stations.
- About 40% of these stations are zero clients and are centrally managed.
- Many computer labs are used as classrooms but are available to students when classes are not in session.
- Eight labs (158 work stations) are dedicated for students only. The majority of these labs are located in the Ross Pendergraft Library & Technology Center, where student satisfaction is highly monitored.
- OIS/Support Services evaluates all campus computer labs prior to each fall term. Computers and virtual machines are assessed for their age, warranty status, usage volume, and compatibility with the software needed for teaching and student use. Equipment is replaced and/or repurposed in order to provide the maximum benefit for learning purposes.

Software

- All computer labs contain a core image of commonly used software.
- Additional software per lab is requested by faculty members and accommodated on a semester-by-semester basis.
- Students are also provided with the software they need through virtual machines that are available from anywhere in the world.
- Engineering students share a dedicated pool of virtual machines specifically imaged with the software used in their classes, while all students have access to a pool of virtual machines with our core software.
- Access to Office 2016 Professional is available to students through Office 365.

Computer Support Services

- The Campus Support Center operates 24/7 where faculty/staff/students can receive telephone and/or remote assistance from a live ATU Customer Support Representative.
- Support is provided for connectivity issues, common Blackboard needs, and a wide variety of other technical related problems.
- Hands-on technical assistance is available during normal working hours to service labs, desktop computers, AV equipment, instructor stations, and network functions.

Distance Learning

- Development and oversight of courses are handled by the College of eTech. Technical support is provided by the Office of Information Systems (Support Services for general issues and Technology Learning Resources for advanced needs).
- Two maintenance windows are available each year (summer break and winter break) in which updates to our current release, or vetted new releases, from Blackboard Learn are applied.

- We purposefully stay one or two releases behind the most recent available release to allow for proper vetting before it is applied to our production environment. However, we always stay on a release supported by Blackboard.
- All services are handled in-house except some course materials that are obtained from third-party publishers.

Security

- All information pertaining to students and employees is stored in a secured database (Banner). Access to that information is granted to only those employees who need the information to complete the responsibilities of their job position (least privileges methodology).
- ATU endeavors to follow all state and federal government guidelines (FERPA and HIPAA) pertaining to student information.

Summarize the policies and procedures to keep the technology infrastructure current.

ATU's Learning Management System (LMS) is Blackboard Learn, being hosted by Blackboard via their Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) delivery method, utilizing Amazon Web Services datacenters, and deployed with a Continuous Delivery method that provides application updates on a monthly basis.

Summarize the procedures that assure the security of personal information.

In regards to the Learning Management System (LMS), please see Appendix X for a complete description of Blackboard's security practices.

Provide a list of services that will be outsourced to other organizations (course materials, course management and delivery, technical services, online payment, student privacy, etc.).

No components of the MA-LLOD degree program or any ancillary service will be outsourced to a third-party. The College of eTech does not outsource services to other organizations for course management or delivery. Technical Support Services are also not outsourced. Currently, student tuition online payments go through a PCI compliant payment processing center. Some course materials are obtained from third-party publishers.
